RICH YOUTH SLAIN; AUTO TAKEN BY HIS MISSING FRIEND

Body Found Buried at Farm
Home of Champaign Boy Who Now Is a Fugitive.

HE BORROWED A SPADE

as Security for Speeder's Fine,
Found in Danville.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Aug. 13.—Gust Penman, son of a Champaign County farmer, is a fugitive, charged with the murder of Harold Shaw, a young man of Urbana, whose body was discovered buried last night on the Penman farm south of Philo.

An uncontrollable mania to become the owner of young Shaw's racing automobile, for which he was dickered, is assigned as the motive for the alleged murder. Shaw was 20 years old and the only son of William T. Shaw, one of the wealthiest residents here.

Machine Is Recovered.
Shaw's automobile was found today in Jones Brothers' garage, directly opposite Police Headquarters, on Walnut street, in Danville, where it was held by the police as security for a fine. At 1 a. m. Monday officers arrested a man answering the description of Penman as he drove up in front of the Illinois Hotel, booking him for having all lights out. One tire was gone and a rim was badly bent. The driver, coattless and hatless, gave a plausible story and was allowed to depart, presumably to get money to pay his fine.

The machine's Illinois license number is 13,399 and the factory number 514. It is a Mercer car.
Since the mysterious disappearance of Shaw Saturday night, when he took Penman on a ride to discuss the terms of a prospective purchase, his family and friends had been uneasy. Penman returned alone in the car, visited the elder Shaw and informed him that he had bought the machine. The next day Penman himself disappeared in the car. Suspicion pointed to him at once and was intensified when Newton Wimmer, a neighbor, related that Penman had awakened him at 3 o'clock Sunday morning to borrow a spade, saying that cattle had broken a fence that had to be repaired.

Buried a Fugitive's Home.
The frenzied father, declaring that he had dreamed his son was murdered, insisted that a search be made. Deputy Sheriff Evans went to the Penman farm and a newly made grave was discovered. Shaw's body was found not quite four feet under ground. There were marks on the face and head, indicating that an iron bar had been the weapon used to kill. Sheriff Davis wired other cities for the arrest of Penman.

A postcard mailed in Hamilton, O., came to Philo yesterday, addressed to Penman, purporting to be from Shaw. It said: "Hello, Gus, I am visiting friends here and will go north in a few days to spend the summer. Will let you know my address. Don't forget to send that money to father."

"HAROLD,"
Coroner Hammon of Champaign County today held an inquest over the body of Shaw.

OVERSIGHT PROLONGS MAN'S LIFE TWO YEARS

Frisco Slayer Condemned to Die
Lingers in Jail Because His Case Was Forgotten.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—An oversight has prolonged the life of August Geber two years.
In 1904, just before the San Francisco fire, Geber was convicted of the murder of Charles Hartman and sentenced to be hanged. Then came the earthquake, which destroyed the records of Geber's trial. Geber had taken an appeal. The appeal was dismissed in 1911, but nobody bothered about resentencing Geber and in San Quentin he stayed.

Yesterday George Hartman, whose son was Geber's victim, called the attention of Superior Judge Dunn to the slayer's protracted tenure of life. Geber is expected to appear in court Saturday and be resentenced.

BRIDEGROOM AND JUDGE COATLESS AT WEDDING

Hot Weather Causes All Men in Kansas Wedding Party to Attend in Shirt Sleeves.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 13.—A precedent for coatless weddings in Kansas during the extremely hot weather was established when Harry Beach and Myrtle Young were married in the Probate Court of Sherman County last night.

"It is too hot to wear a coat. I will perform this ceremony if you do not object to my appearing in my shirt sleeves," said Judge McFarland.
"That will be all right if I do not have to wear a coat either," said the prospective bridegroom.

"Agreed," responded the Judge, as the girl smiled.

An hour later when the ceremony was performed not a man in the wedding party was wearing a coat.

MAN, CAUGHT IN CHASE LIKE THE MOVIES, ESCAPES

Posse Follows Ed Sharp on Handcar After He Shot at Benbow Marshal.

FALLS BESIDE A TRAIN

Fugitive, Peppered With Shot,
Jumps Off Operating Table and Gets Away Again.

Three moving picture men got off an interurban car at Benbow City, eight miles south of Alton, Wednesday morning, and asked the municipal authorities if they would please do it all over again.

It couldn't be done because the hero of the thrilling wordless drama, "Chased on a Handcar," had escaped after being run down and captured by a posse.

Ed Sharp, a Standard Oil pipe line workman, essayed the role of bad man in Benbow City Tuesday afternoon. After he had been accused of smuggling whisky to two prisoners in the city jail he drew two revolvers and fired on William Beers, acting City Marshal.

Sober Prisoners Get Drunk.
The prisoners, Edward Stumps and John Barker, were sober when they were arrested on a peace disturbance charge Tuesday morning. When Beers went to the jail to take them to court for trial at noon, he found them intoxicated. Sharp had been their only visitor. Beers ordered him from the jail.

As he stepped into the street, Sharp drew a revolver from each hip pocket, announced that he was the original bad man from Badville, and started to shoot up the town.

Beers exchanged several shots with Sharp and then telephoned to Mayor A. E. Benbow and Magistrate Ashlock, who soon appeared, on the run, with shotguns. With them was a posse of 15 citizens, all armed.

What happened in the next few minutes would have made a fine film but the moving picture men had not been tipped off.

Pursued by the mob Sharp ran down the Chicago & Alton tracks. He had a good start, but he took no chances, every few steps he turned and fired at the posse.

A handcar stood on the railroad track. Benbow, Ashlock, Beers and John Brady jumped on it. Two worked the levers while the others kept up a running fire at the fugitive. The other possemen followed on foot, firing as they ran. A freight train went by on another track. Sharp grabbed for the handle bars on the last car, but missed them and fell. Before he could rise the posse was on him, after a chase of half a mile.

It was found that Sharp was peppered with bird shot and seemingly seriously wounded. He was put on the handcar and taken back to Benbow City.

Fires From Operating Table.
Sharp was left in care of Dr. O. E. Gottschalk while the posse went to the jail to get a pair of handcuffs. In the absence of his captors he jumped up from the operating table, leaped through a window and escaped.

The posse searched for him several hours, but did not find him.

CHICKEN ALONE ON SHIP

TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 13.—The oil steamer, Standard, towed into this port the sponging schooner Mobile and reported that the Mobile was picked up Saturday 100 miles west of Tampa with nothing alive on board, but one chicken.

Seven weeks ago John Cochran, owner of the boat, left Tampa for a trip to the sponging grounds. The usual crew was five persons, but it is not known how many were on this trip. The vessel was sailing, all sails set, when picked up.

ENGINEER KILLED WHEN ST. LOUIS TRAIN IS WRECKED

Fireman Injured, but Passengers Escape in Collision at Millard, Mo.

Engineer John Morrison of Moberly was killed and Fireman Ray Burton of Moberly seriously injured when a Wabash passenger train was wrecked at Millard, Mo., about 3 a. m. Wednesday. The fireman was taken to La Platte.

According to information from Kirksville, which is a short distance beyond Millard, a small station, the passenger crashed into an extra train standing on a siding. The extra had been switched there by mistake.

The train was made up at Moberly Tuesday night for the Moberly-Des Moines division. In it were several passenger coaches which left St. Louis at 9 p. m. None of the passengers was injured.

Engine Hits Caboose, Lantern Causes Fire.
A Wabash switch engine crashed into two cabooses standing on a sidetrack in Ferguson at 12:15 a. m. Wednesday, turning the cars over in a ditch. The midnight Wabash train to Kansas City was flagged before it reached Ferguson and was delayed several hours.

BEBEL, FOREMOST GERMAN SOCIALIST, IS DEAD IN ZURICH

August Bebel probably was the best known of the modern Socialist leaders. He joined the German labor movement in 1883 and continued to struggle for the working classes until his death.

He was a member of the Imperial Parliament almost continuously from its formation in 1871. Not long after the first session he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for high treason and to an additional nine months for less malefice.

The Socialists of Germany regarded him as a brilliant leader and organizer and he was able to keep the ranks of the party united at nearly all times. He lived to see it represented in the Imperial Parliament by more than 100 deputies and the strongest party there.

Bebel actively opposed Bismarck's anti-Socialist laws and was often arrested and fined when they were in force. The annexation of Alsace-Lorraine was another of his pet aversions, which he called Bismarck's "fatal crime."

Bebel was a poor man and when he first entered Parliament was compelled during the recesses to work at his trade as turner to earn a livelihood. The cause of Bebel's death was paralysis of the heart.

HARD RAIN VISITS WEST END WHEN IT IS DRY DOWNTOWN

Freak Storm Like That of Tuesday,
Which Caused Panic at Fairground Pool.

A heavy rain at Fairground Wednesday morning, while little or no rain fell in some other parts of St. Louis, was a continuation of the freakish local storms of Tuesday afternoon, one of which caused a panic at the Fairground bathing pool.

There was a heavy rain Wednesday south of Forest Park, as well as in parts of North St. Louis and the West End, while in the central district from Grand avenue east only a few scattering drops fell. In Kirkwood there was a heavy storm and several trees were broken by the wind.

Lightning Destroys Home.
The home and furniture of Henry Follus, 683 Arthur avenue, was destroyed at 8:15 a. m. by a fire from the two-story frame building was struck by lightning. Follus and his family were on a fishing trip at Valley Park, having left home early in the morning.

The rain in Weston caused several sewers to overflow on Easton avenue and flooded the streets. For about 15 minutes, the Wells in cars were stopped because a trolley wire, which had been struck by lightning, was down.

It rained hard in Clayton, Kirkwood and Webster from 8 a. m. to 9:30, but no damage was reported.

Tuesday afternoon's downtown heavy rainfall, beginning at 4:30, was a down-pour for a half hour. At the same time there was a slight drizzle on Taylor avenue, and from King's highway westward not a drop of moisture fell save from the sprinkling carts.

A high wind accompanied the rain at Fairground, and more than 100 trees were blown over. One of these fell on the roof of the women's dressing room, which was crowded with women and girls seeking refuge from the rain, and broke the roof in two places. Some of them fainted, and others were kept from running out, half-clad, into the storm, only by the forcible restraint of policemen and attendants.

Buildings Were Filled.
The rain and wind arose just after the pool had been emptied of bathers, and just as it was about to be filled again. This caused the adjoining buildings to be filled almost to their capacity.

FACTS WORKING TO GAIN OR TO HOLD THE GOVERNORSHIP

Mrs. Sulzer Declares That It Was
She and Not Her Husband That Speculated in Wall Street With Checks Contributed to His Campaign Fund — Trying to Make Money for Rainy Day.

By Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Gov. William Sulzer was impeached today by the Assembly. The action of the lower House of the State Legislature raised a vital question as to whether under the Constitution the Governor must vacate his office pending final adjudication of the impeachment issue by the Senate and Court of Appeals sitting jointly as a trial court.

Indications were that he would contest bitterly the theory of the opposition that he becomes automatically barred from exercising the functions of the office the moment the articles of impeachment are formally presented to the Senate and that he will be disqualified from resuming the duties of executive until the court of impeachment fails to sustain these charges.

This afternoon, eight hours after the Assembly adopted the articles of impeachment, the Governor was in consultation with legal advisers in the Executive Chamber and had not announced his intention.

The Governor smiled cheerily to correspondents who greeted him as he mounted the front steps of the Capitol and posed good naturedly for a battery of camera men.

"It's a fine morning, gentlemen," he said.

Lieutenant-Governor Glynn came to Albany from his summer home at Cedar Hill during the forenoon and went to his newspaper office as usual. If Gov. Sulzer is deposed Glynn will automatically take his place.

"I do not intend to enter into any physical contest with Mr. Sulzer over the office of governor," said Lieutenant-Governor Glynn this afternoon. "As far as I am concerned there will be no circus or military maneuvers about occupying the executive chamber. The law is supreme."

Louis Marshall, the Governor's counsel, is quoted as saying the language of the constitution is not clear on this point and Gov. Sulzer gave himself the benefit of the doubt by refusing to vacate the office.

Talk of Calling Out Troops.
There has been some talk of his ordering out the troops to prevent his forcible removal in case it was contemplated if he should decline to surrender his office. Little credence, however, is placed by his friends in the report that he would resort to such extremity.

The trial on the impeachment articles will be held in the Senate chamber. The court for the trial is the Senate, the Senators, or a majority of them, and the Judges of the Court of Appeals, or a major part of them.

To convict requires the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present. The fact that the various State departments and bureaus are divided in their allegiance to the executive and the Tammany organization which is seeking to depose him, stimulates interest in the complicated situation. The possibility of two men endeavoring to discharge the functions of the chief executive at the same time suggests a chaotic condition that the courts alone would have power to deal with.

Gov. Sulzer, according to a close friend, already has drafted with the advice of his counsel, a letter embodying reasons for refusing to turn over his office to Lieutenant-Governor Glynn in anticipation of such a demand immediately following official reception of the articles of impeachment by the Senate. The Senate was not expected to meet until late in the afternoon.

Gov. Sulzer was impeached "for high crimes and misdemeanors." The vote was and stood at 5:15 o'clock this morning, after an all-night session, taken 79 to 46. He was charged with having diverted campaign contributions to his private use and having made under oath false statements as to his campaign receipts.

An eleven-hour declaration on the part of the Governor's wife that she had diverted some of his campaign contributions to the purchase of stock became the talk of the household under money failed to avert impeachment.

Salzer Asks Before Vote.
A committee of three was appointed to ascertain the Senate with the fact that the Assembly had voted to impeach Gov. Sulzer and the Governor of the

SEVEN OTHER GOVERNORS HAVE BEEN IMPEACHED

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.
ONLY seven Governors in the United States have been impeached. These cases were:
Charles Robinson, Kansas, 1912;
Harrison Reed, Florida, 1905;
William W. Holden, North Carolina, 1870; removed.
Fowell Clayton, Arkansas, 1871;
charges dropped.
David Butler, Nebraska, 1871; removed.
Henry C. Warmoth, Louisiana,
1872; term expired and proceedings dropped.
Adelbert Ames, Mississippi, 1876; resigned.

Never before in the history of New York State has a Governor been impeached. The nearest approach to it centered about George Clinton, the State's first chief executive, in 1791. An associate of the Governor was convicted of irregularities in land speculation and sent to jail. This smirched Clinton's name for a time, but he was never tried, and subsequently he lived it down and served his State thereafter for years.

peachment were being prepared. Gov. Sulzer did not wait for the final vote on his impeachment, but went to bed early this morning while the Assembly was still debating the impeachment resolution.

"He had a pretty good idea what would happen, however," was the word from the executive mansion after the roll call.

After the adoption of the articles of impeachment, the Assembly quickly passed a resolution appointing nine members to conduct the impeachment proceedings on behalf of the lower house. The managers are under the chairmanship of Assemblyman Levy, and include five other New York City Democrats.

Vetoed Bill, Announced.
Thereafter, under the head of unfinished business, the Assembly took up consideration of several bills passed at the present session and vetoed by the Governor. With a roll call that moved swiftly and without hitch, the first of these bills was repassed over the Governor's veto.

Many members had been slumbering in their seats during the tedious hours of the prolonged debate. Others buoyed no longer by the excitement of the impeachment proceedings leaned back in their chairs and closed their eyes. By the time the first bill had been passed there were audible sounds of deep and laborious breathing in some of the members' chairs. Speaker Smith, leaning forward, swept with his eyes rows of men with their heads on their bosoms and their eyes closed.

"A number of the members, I think, are asleep in their chairs," he thundered, bringing his gavel down with a resounding thump on his desk. "Members will please answer when their names are called."

More chances of the Governor's impeachment were being prepared.

MRS. SULZER SAYS SHE USED CHECKS

Governor's Wife Declares She Intended to Store Campaign Funds for 'Rainy Day.'

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The great sensation of the entire fight on Gov. Sulzer came early today when Mrs. Sulzer issued a statement asserting that she took checks given to the Governor for campaign purposes, saying that she intended to store the money away for a "rainy day." She explained that at the time she saw no harm in her acts.

In the light of the revelations contained in Mrs. Sulzer's declaration to Senator Palmer, Gov. Sulzer's friends are inclined to view the ordeal which confronts him with less apprehension than before his impeachment. By her assertion that she diverted part of the campaign contributions sent her husband to private purposes without his knowledge and then used them to purchase stock in Wall street, she has shown the articles of impeachment of many of their terms, his friends believe.

Mrs. Sulzer must take the witness stand in her husband's behalf before the Court of Impeachment, tell her story in detail and submit to examination by hostile lawyers, or take the hazard that the impeachers will prove their case, the Governor's friends believe.

Either her reputation or her husband's, these friends fear, must suffer. They say she will take the stand if she has no other choice. They add that she brought the Governor a week ago to permit her to tell her story to the public.

Matthew J. Horgan, secretary to the Frawley Committee, was fully aware of the fact that she had endorsed the Governor's checks and deposited them, says Mrs. Sulzer. Horgan and his wife, at the time, were practically members of the Sulzer household. Mrs. Sulzer claimed, and added that Horgan advised her in financial matters. At the time of Gov. Sulzer's nomination, Mrs. Sulzer explained, the Sulzer finances were at an extremely low ebb. Sulzer's financial obligations amounted to more than $40,000, and some of them were pressing. Mrs. Sulzer accompanied her husband to the declaration that her bank books and the love letters sent her by Gov. Sulzer have been stolen.

Gov. Sulzer, it is said, knew nothing about his wife's dealings on the Stock Exchange until shortly before the Frawley Committee began its investigation. When he first heard the revelations, his friends say, he refused to believe them, ridiculed them as a hoax and branded them as an attempt to secure his resignation.

Later, when it was seen that the Frawley Committee was in earnest in its investigation, Mrs. Sulzer first told the Governor of her actions and offered to make a public statement detailing them. This Gov. Sulzer emphatically refused to permit. When the testimony concerning the Wall street transactions was brought out by the committee in New York, Mrs. Sulzer again insisted on accompanying the story, that she tell all and save her husband.

On the advice of Judge James Gay Gordon of Philadelphia, who was Gov. Sulzer's attorney in the Mignon Hopkins breach of promise suit, and Attorney Louis Marshall, Mrs. Sulzer, it is said, was persuaded to remain silent. Judge Gordon, it was learned today, has been a guest at the executive mansion for several days advising both the Governor and Mrs. Sulzer.

Visited by Old Friend.
When Senator Palmer, an old time friend, visited Mrs. Sulzer yesterday to discuss other matters in which she is interested, the Governor's wife is said to have told Senator Palmer that the Governor had known nothing of the Wall street transactions laid at his door by the Frawley committee and that she was solely responsible, and therefore

Declares Sulzer Is Poor Business Man, That She Handles His Checks

All yesterday afternoon and until long after midnight there were rumors that Mrs. Sulzer was insisting on assuming full responsibility for the misuse of campaign funds. The rumors were not taken seriously and were easily disposed of as being the result of a devoted wife's desire to sacrifice herself to save her husband.

But when the statement was formally given out at the People's House it caused amazement.

Frankly, Albany does not know what to think. No one pretends that the exposure of Gov. Sulzer has a particle of virtue behind it. It is admittedly "dirty politics." Through it all the Governor has maintained a silence that gave the impression of guilt—caught with the goods by professional political crooks. If it be shown that this silence was to protect his wife, that she had acted under the advice or with the knowledge of some of the men now destroying the Governor, his friends say the lid will fly off with a bang that will be heard all over the State and Gov. Sulzer will become the hero-martyr of the twentieth century.

If, however, Mrs. Sulzer fails to sustain her assertions, then, it is believed, the Governor will be swept into oblivion as a despised creature who sacrificed his wife to save himself.

Talks About Affairs.
When Mrs. Sulzer yesterday talked freely about her affairs with her old friend, State Senator Abraham J. Palmer, a retired Methodist minister of Milton, N. Y., she told him in substance: "That Sulzer had always been a poor business man."

That she, his wife, had always tried to take care of his accounts.

That she had received certain campaign checks, and as was her custom in handling personal checks for him, had indorsed these checks, and that if they had found their way into the offices of a brokerage concern, the Governor was not to blame; that if there was to be any blame attaching she was prepared to bear it. The Assembly was informed officially was entirely to blame for the resultant impeachment proceedings. It was also said by friends of both the Governor and his wife today that during the campaign Sulzer gave Mrs. Sulzer $500 for personal expenses. She is said to have told her confidantes that this sum was invested with others in the stock market. The Governor's friends say this accounts for the $300 payment to Boyer, Griswold & Co., mention of which was made in the testimony before the Frawley Committee.

Since his occupancy of the executive office Gov. Sulzer has declared he has been subjected to continual espionage. Spies invaded his household in New York before his inauguration, friends declare, and followed him to Albany. Many private documents belonging both to the Governor and Mrs. Sulzer have disappeared, among them being, according to Sulzer's friends, many which could be used in substantiation of her story concerning her alleged use of the Governor's campaign funds. Love letters written to her by the Governor during their courtship also have disappeared recently, these friends assert.

Sulzer Courted by Postcard for 5 Years

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.

MRS. WILLIAM SULZER, wife of the Governor of New York, who, in an effort to prevent his impeachment, shouldered the responsibility for the stock transactions of which he is accused, is a former Chicago woman. She entered the Presbyterian Hospital here 15 years ago and left it three years later a graduate nurse.

Mrs. Sulzer left this city 10 years ago and went to New York, where she met the Governor, then a Congressman, at a dinner. They corresponded, mostly on post cards, according to her statement, for five years, and then married. She is considered a woman of great charm, is a splendid cook and personally directs the affairs of her household. Her maiden name was Rodenhelm.

panied by hisses from the galleries.

"No," the Speaker ruled. The motion was lost. Himman then asked for reconsideration of the motion, and asked for a roll call. The motion to postpone the proceedings was lost by 49 to 73 and debate was resumed.

Along towards midnight, when the rumors could not be held down longer, a close friend of Gov. Sulzer, Samuel Bell Thomas, a New York lawyer, who has been assisting daily in Sulzer's war on the bosses, was sent to the executive mansion to ask Sulzer regarding the report that Mrs. Sulzer had made charges.

"I can make no statement about that," Thomas said the Governor told him. "Mrs. Sulzer is upstairs in bed and cannot be seen. She had a fall and suffered a slight hurt. Tell the newspaper men that they must see Senator Palmer for any statement that is to be made."

Sulzer was told that the Governor had referred the newspaper men to him, but he would make no statement.

Verge of a Breakdown.

If the statement of Senators and members of the Assembly are to be accepted as true, Mrs. Sulzer has been on the verge of a nervous breakdown for more than 48 hours. She has borne up bravely through all the trying days of the past several weeks while the Frawley Committee was getting closer and closer to the trail that eventually led to the uncovering of the Sulzer Wall street accounts.

There was a report current in the capital that Mrs. Sulzer suffered a nervous collapse Monday night. One of the Governor's friends, who spent the night at the Executive Mansion, confirmed this report. He said that Mrs. Sulzer had quickly recovered, however.

Senator James J. Frawley, chairman of the investigating committee that presented the indictment upon which Gov. Sulzer's official head is demanded, rapped hesitatingly early yesterday at the door leading from the main corridor into the Governor's private office.

The door opened slightly at first and was then thrown back to admit the burly form of the Tammany Senator. Frawley cast a furtive glance at the battery of legal lights gathered around the Governor, then with solemn visage entered, the door closing quietly behind him.

For 10 minutes Frawley faced the hostile gathering.

Investigation Planned.
At the very moment that he and the Governor were exchanging words weighted with vital import to both, John A. Hennessy and former United States Attorney Henry A. Wise were collaborating over an application to the court designed to pave the way for an investigation by Hennessy of Frawley's political and business past. The secret visit of Frawley to the Governor provoked this remark from one of the Tammany men:

"Frawley now finds himself in the position of the boy who threw a stone at the side of a mountain and started an avalanche that engulfed himself."

Various interpretations of this remark were attempted, and all were predicated on the announcement by Hennessy that before he got through investigating he would "get Frawley."

Only two men saw Frawley enter and depart from the Governor's private office. They were detectives who for a week have been standing guard at a main entrance to the executive chamber like plain-clothes policemen on stationary post.

Apprehensive of the espionage of this pair, Frawley, as he walked down the corridor toward the elevator, glanced to see if he would be shadowed. The detectives stuck to their posts.

Amazement was expressed by more than one member of the Legislature when it was learned that Senator Frawley had called on the Governor. No reason could be assigned for the Tammany Senator's visit by his friends in the Legislature.

MORGENTHAU TO TURKEY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—While the White House declined to authorize any announcement today it is known that friends of Henry Morgenthau, chairman of the Finance Committee of the President's campaign, have brought word that Morgenthau will accept the ambassadorship to Turkey and his nomination will be sent to the Senate soon.

SULZER CHARGES INCLUDE PERJURY, BRIBERY, LARCENY

Eight Distinct Allegations Presented in Arraignment of Executive—About 4000 Words in the Official Document.

By Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The official document presenting the Assembly's charges against Gov. Sulzer names eight counts on which he is to be tried before the impeachment tribunal. The charges contain about 4000 words.

Most of the allegations concern the use of campaign contributions and the Governor's report of the amount of the contributions. It is charged that Sulzer has been guilty of bribery, larceny and perjury among other offenses.

The articles are in substance as follows:

1. That Gov. Sulzer, in filing his statement of campaign expenses, set forth that his entire receipts were $500, and his expenditures $724; that this statement "was false and was intended by him to be false and was an evasion and violation of the statutes of the State"; that his list of receipts failed to include 11 specific contributions, ranging in amount from $100 to $2000; that the Governor's false statement, made "wrongfully, wilfully and corruptly," caused "great scandal and reproach of the Governor of the State of New York.

2. That Gov. Sulzer attached to his statement of campaign expenses an affidavit declaring that the statement was in all respects "a full and detailed statement of all moneys received or contributed or expended by him directly or indirectly." That this affidavit, duly "Subscribed and sworn to by said William Sulzer, was false and was corruptly made by him," and that he was "Guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury."

3. That Gov. Sulzer, "unmindful of the duties of his office and in violation of his oath of office, was guilty of corrupt conduct in his office as Governor and was guilty of bribing witnesses." The specific charge is that while the Frawley committee was investigating the Governor's campaign accounts, he "fraudulently induced" three witnesses (his campaign manager, a personal friend and a stock broker), "to withhold their testimony from said committee," and that in so doing he "acted corruptly and was guilty of a felony."

4. That the Governor was guilty of

"suppressing evidence," in violation of the State penal law. The specific charge is that while the Frawley Committee was in session, he "practiced deceit and fraud and used threats and menaces with intent to prevent said committee from procuring the attendance and testimony of certain witnesses."

5. That the Governor was guilty of "preventing and dissuading a witness from attending under a subpoena," the sessions of the Frawley committee. The witness referred to is Frederick L. Colwell, alleged to have acted as Sulzer's agent in certain stock transactions.

6. That prior to his election the Governor appropriated campaign contributions to his own use, "and used the same, or a large part thereof, in speculating in stocks with brokers operating on the New York Stock Exchange and thereby stole such checks and was guilty of larceny." Among the contributors mentioned are: Jacob H. Schiff, $350; Abram I. Elkus, $500; William F. McCombs, $500; Henry Morgenthau, $1000; John Lynn, $500; Theodore W. Myers, $100; Lynard Spalding, $100; Edward F. O'Dwyer, $100; John W. Cox, $300; Frank V. Strauss company, $1000; and John T. Dooling, $100, and cash aggregating $22,850.

7. That Gov. Sulzer promised and threatened to use the authority and influence of his office for the purpose of affecting the vote or political action of certain public officers, including two Assemblymen.

8. That he corruptly used his authority as Governor to affect the price of securities on the New York Stock Exchange, in some of which he was speculating, upon a margin or otherwise, recommending and pressing for passage legislation affecting the business of the exchange "And then by withdrawing, or attempting to withdraw, from the consideration of the Legislature, such legislation which was pending therein—all the time concealing his identity in said transaction by a subterfuge."

In conclusion, the Assembly demands that the Governor answer concerning all those matters before the court which is to hear the charges and offers to present proof of "The said matters at such time as the Honorable Court of Impeachment may order and appoint."

BROKERS SILENT ON 'CONFESSION'

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Only one reference was made to Mrs. Sulzer in the testimony before the Frawley Committee. Richard M. Huber, secretary of the Frank W. Strauss company, who appeared before the committee last Friday, was asked by Eugene Lamb Richards, counsel for the committee, if he had found among Strauss' canceled checks a check payable to Mrs. Sulzer. He said he had found no such check.

As Frank W. Strauss' check for $1000 was among the seven checks, alleged campaign contributions, which, according to the testimony, went to pay for 300 shares of "Big Four" Railroad stock bought for $12.05 from Boyer, Griswold & Co., by Frederick Colwell, having been the Frawley Committee with charged by Gov. Sulzer's "dummy."

The three Stock Exchange houses with which Gov. Sulzer is alleged to have dealt refused to deny or affirm the story that Mrs. Sulzer, not the Governor, had speculated.

Mrs. Sulzer, who was Miss Clara Rodenhelm, married Sulzer, then a Congressman, on July 7, 1904. They have no children.

JOHN LIND SEES MINISTER GAMBOA; MAY VISIT HUERTA

President Wilson's Representative Received Unofficially by Gamboa and Same Action by Provisional President Is Expected in Mexico City.

LIND AWAITS NEW ORDERS FROM U. S.

Word That Britain, France and Germany Recognized Huerta Because of H. L. Wilson's Speech Encourages President Wilson.

By Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, Aug. 12.—John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative and adviser to the American Embassy, was received in an unofficial capacity yesterday afternoon by Federico Gamboa, Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The visit of Lind consumed only a few minutes of Senor Gamboa's time, and few persons knew that it had been made. The time selected for the call was when few visitors were at the Foreign Office, and a disposition was shown in the department to cloak it with secrecy.

No further steps were taken by Lind to advance the object of his mission to Mexico, and it is believed little will develop in the situation before Thursday. Lind is in communication with Washington, and it is not improbable that his movements will be governed by instructions from there, based upon the progress he is able to make here.

In view of President Huerta's note of last week, issued through the acting Foreign Minister, stating that Mr. Lind would not be received officially unless he brought credentials and also official recognition of the Huerta Government, great significance attaches to his reception by Huerta's cabinet chief, even unofficially. By some persons his reception is taken as an indication of the disposition of President Huerta to learn the character of the message Lind bears. There is an unconfirmed rumor in circulation that steps already have been taken to bring about a conference between President Huerta and Lind.

Reception Merely Courtesy. It is the opinion of Mexicans generally that even if President Huerta should receive Lind it would be merely to show him a personal courtesy, and would not alter the stand the Mexican executive has taken in relation to foreign interference in the republic. It is pointed out also that even should President Huerta be disposed to listen to suggestions there remains the rebel element as a bar to the restoration of peace.

Mr. Lind was presented to Senor Gamboa by Nelson O'Shaughnessy, Charge d'Affaires of the American Embassy, in the character of a private citizen. The conversation between the Mexican cabinet officer and Lind was entirely informal, both carefully avoiding the subject of politics or the mission which is personally entrusted to Lind by President Wilson.

Two official dispatches concerning the defeat of the rebels at Torreón and the lifting of the siege there by 3000 rebels were killed. The reports say a large number of those classed as killed were executed.

The third day of the fighting there was an uprising in the town involving a number of local officials. The troops, however, gained the upper hand and wiped out the mob, carefully avoiding the use of dynamite and putting to death a large number of persons. The mob used dynamite bombs against the troops.

Dynamite Trails Deleted. Outside the city the rebels redoubled their efforts to capture the place and at one time sent a dynamite-laden train against it. The train, however, was derailed some distance out from the town and the Government forces were saved from harm.

The reports say the rebels have abandoned their attack on Torreón and are moving southward and westward toward the states of Zacatecas and Durango. The advice from Torreón was given by Gen. Bravo, commander of the Federalists in that district, under date of Saturday. Gen. Bravo places the Federal loss at 200. The report says that the rebel strength at the beginning of the action was 10,000 or 12,000 men. The railroads approaching Torreón are out of commission. A letter sent from Torreón the last day of the fighting tells how the rebels advanced into the city and their horsemen dashed to within 50 yards of the Federal lines and attempted to throw ropes around the guns with the intention of dragging them away.

The Government is silent with regard to the notice issued by the Japanese Government that Gen. Felix Diaz would not be received as Mexico's special envoy to thank Japan for having participated in the Mexican centennial.

WASHINGTON SEES SUCCESS FOR LIND

Britain, Japan, Germany and France Expected to Support President.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—News from Mexico City that John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, and Federico Gamboa, Mexican Minister of Foreign Relations, had established unofficial relations by a personal meeting, brought encouragement to administration officials here. It was felt by them that the first step in the program of the American Government to throw its influence in the direction of a quiet and peaceful settlement of the revolution troubles had succeeded.

GIRL WHO WANTS TO REMAIN WITH "SISTER" AND MOTHER WHO OBJECTS

The incident, however, will not change the procedure previously outlined to Lind before he left Washington. He will submit all his representations to Charge O'Shaughnessy, who will transmit them in accordance with diplomatic proprieties, to the Mexican Foreign Minister.

It has been left entirely to Lind's discretion upon whom to call. While there is nothing in Lind's instructions which would prevent him from calling on Provisional President Huerta, it is not regarded that he would do so unless the latter had indicated his desire to receive the unofficial envoy.

It became known that Japan, which had hitherto recognized the Huerta Government, virtually had decided not to receive Gen. Felix Diaz, special Ambassador, to express thanks for the participation by Japan in Mexico's centennial a few years ago. Likewise the statement of the British Government explaining that it, as well as Germany and France, had recognized the Huerta Government after Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson had made a congratulatory speech to President Huerta, encouraged administration officials to believe that the foreign powers would give their moral support to the efforts of President Wilson, through constitutional processes, to influence the restoration of peace in Mexico.

Within the last 48 hours the Navy Department has started two light draft vessels for Vera Cruz to aid in picking up Americans along the east coast of Mexico desiring to return home. The navy now has on the Eastern Mexican coast the battleships Louisiana, Michigan and New Hampshire, the cruisers Wheeling and Collier Neptune at Vera Cruz and the battleship South Carolina at Tampico, and on the west coast of Mexico the armored cruiser Pittsburgh, the gunboat Yorktown at Topolobampo. The battleship South Dakota is en route to Guaymas and the cruiser Tacoma and gunboat Nashville to Vera Cruz.

De La Barra, Heavy Clews' Dismissed, Pressed President Wilson. NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Francisco de la Barra, Mexican Ambassador, on his way to France, was the guest yesterday at a luncheon given by Henry Clews as president of the American Peace and Arbitration League.

Senor de la Barra said: "I believe that your high-minded President will help us all find a satisfactory solution. I invite you all to arise to a toast, to the moral, intellectual and material progress and happiness of the American people, and the distinguished citizens who have the honor of occupying the first place in your nation."

POLICEMAN WOODS ON TRAFFIC DUTY, WINS RICH BRIDE

George E. Dennis Engaged to Divorced Wife of Dancing Master, Charles Davis.

A courtship carried on at one of the busiest street corners in St. Louis has led to the announcement that Traffic Policeman George E. Dennis soon is to marry Mrs. Mary Davis of 2323 Palm street, wealthy divorced wife of Charles P. Davis, dancing master.

Dennis for the last nine months has been stationed at Eighteenth and Locust streets, the main east and west automobile thoroughfare of downtown St. Louis. Hundreds of machines and three lines of street cars cross this traffic point.

Each courtship session was necessarily brief, but several times a week Mrs. Davis, driving her own big touring car, would stop, if but for an instant, to talk with the busy traffic policeman.

Beyond saying that it was true that he and Mrs. Davis were engaged to marry, Policeman Dennis, when seen by reporters, refused to discuss the novel courtship. At Mrs. Davis' home it was said she was out of town.

Met Her When Sent to Her Home. Dennis first met Mrs. Davis about two years ago, when he was sent to her home to investigate a burglary. They did not see each other again until about two months ago, when Mrs. Davis, driving her touring car on Locust street, recognized the traffic man at Eighteenth street and stopped and spoke to him.

After the acquaintance had been renewed, Mrs. Davis laughingly told Dennis that since she saw him last she had become a "grass widow." She obtained a divorce May 7 last.

Mrs. Davis was surprised when she learned that Dennis lived at 3516 Bailey avenue, not far from her home. There was not much chance for him to call on her of evening, as his work kept him on duty until 10 p. m. So most of the meetings were at his busy traffic corner.

Mrs. Davis and her husband conducted dancing schools in St. Louis for many years. In her divorce petition, she alleged that Davis deserted her and that he had associated with another woman.

Davis Deeded Property to Her. In his reply Davis said that in November, 1910, he deeded to Mrs. Davis $20,000 worth of real estate so that it would be exempt from any claims of his children by a former marriage.

The news that the "strange lady" who said she would not divorce him. They separated in March, 1911.

Friends of Dennis say they have been informed that the wedding is to be Sept. 13.

The romance of Dennis and Mrs. Davis recalls the secret wedding two years ago of Miss Githa Morosini of New York and Arthur M. Werner of New York, a traffic policeman, saved her life in a runaway. Miss Morosini was one of New York's richest heiresses and was called "the best-dressed woman in America."

NATIONAL GUARD HAS SURPLUS OF GENERALS

Spencer and Lechtman Put on Unassigned List to Make Room for Others.

The National Guard had too many Generals, and the problem which this fact created was solved only by placing Brigadier-Generals E. J. Spencer of St. Louis and Cusht Lechtman of Kansas City on the "unassigned" list. Or rather, the list was created for them, as unassigned Brigadier-Generals. It was found that the militia has not enjoyed in recent years.

At the same time Major-General H. C. Clark of Butler was named Brigadier-General, in command of the National Guard of Missouri.

Back in the Hayes administration Frank M. Rumbold, then Adjutant-General, recommended to the Governor that a division of Missouri troops be created. A division consists of nine infantry regiments of 800 men each, one cavalry regiment and artillery, engineer, hospital and signal companies.

In carrying out this recommendation Gov. Hadley elevated Cols. Spencer and Lechtman to the rank of Brigadier-General. When arrangements were made with the War Department for this year's State encampment, to be held at Nevada, Aug. 25-31, it was found that the strength of the division was not up to Government standards, and that it would have to be reduced to a brigade.

Accordingly, Spencer and Lechtman were not deprived of their rank, but were left without definite duties.

GIRL ON STAND IN DIGGS' CASE TELLS OF THEIR FLIGHT

Marsha Warrington Says Men Made It Appear Scandal Was to Be Published About Them.

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Marsha Warrington was the State's first witness today in the trial of Maury I. Diggs, charged with violation of the Mann act. She continued her story of how she, in company of Lola Norris, drew Caminetti and Diggs, slipped away from Sacramento to Reno one night in hope of avoiding local notoriety and stirred up a scandal which has developed into an affair of nation-wide interest.

The customary hundreds gathered in the corridors before United States District Judge Van Fleet's court and trailed in a long waiting line into the street. It was not alone for Miss Warrington that the crowd took its slender chance of admission. The next witness ready to be called was Lola Norris. Her story in essentials, it was expected, would be much like that of Miss Warrington, although the latter testified Diggs was the more active in some of the questionable preparations than Caminetti, with whom the Norris girl fled.

"What did Caminetti say?" asked an attorney when Miss Warrington was explaining how the men had labored to persuade the girls to leave home.

"He said 'I'm much,' she replied. "He just agreed."

Known Men Were Married. Marsha Warrington picked her way through a hushed courtroom when she took the stand yesterday. The girl, who is a decidedly pretty blonde, said in beginning her testimony that she was 20 years old and lived with her father and stepmother. Her mother died when she was 5 years old.

"I have known Maury I. Diggs since last September, and we were very close friends," she continued. "Two weeks before we left for Reno, while Drew Caminetti and Miss Norris and I were sitting with Diggs in his machine he told me there was a scandal about to be published about the four of us and that we would have to leave town. I was surprised, but he said he would have to go."

"Miss Norris was told, and Caminetti joined Diggs in urging that we leave immediately. They told us that we would be arrested and subjected to the third degree."

"Did you know that Diggs and Caminetti were married at the time?"

"Yes, and Miss Norris knew it, too. Diggs told me his relations with his wife were unpleasant; that he was unhappy and wanted to leave town. He said he had an affection for me—care for me more than he did for his wife. I believed him."

"He manifested affection for me; he kissed me; discussed marriage with me and said he would get a divorce and marry me. Caminetti told Lola the same thing."

"Did you have an affection for him?"

"Yes, I had a strong affection for him. He discussed leaving town together several times, when the four of us were on automobile trips, and in Diggs' machine. The men told us Diggs' father and Caminetti's father were going to prosecute us, and that Diggs Sr. was giving an attorney named Harris large sums of money to keep the story out of the papers. They said there would be warrants for us and that we would be given the third degree."

"We didn't go away, as I said I couldn't go away from father, but it would kill him. Diggs said it would all come out in the papers any way, and that my father would know sooner or later, and that we had better go."

"Miss Norris told them it would kill her mother, and Caminetti and Diggs told us that our parents would soon get over it. They kept urging us to go immediately."

"On Saturday, March 8, Diggs returned from San Francisco from a business trip. He called Lola, Caminetti and me to a safe, told us his father was coming up from Berkeley the following Monday to put Caminetti in jail and have us prosecuted. He said that he had cleaned up his business and that we would have to leave right away. We protested, but after three or four hours consented to go."

Decided to Go to Reno. "The next day we met again, and the men finally decided on Reno, after considering Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. We tried to back to the station. We would just as soon stay and take chances on the scandal. They told us we couldn't back out."

"That night we met in a cafe. Caminetti went out to get some money. We went to the railroad station and while there a train for Reno was pulling out. I told Diggs I would stay in Sacramento. He said he cared too much for me, and I would have to go."

"Caminetti didn't come with the money, and we missed that train. Later we met Caminetti at the cafe and at midnight we tried to back to the station. When we got there Diggs told us to wait where we were and he went over and bought four tickets."

"We got into a Pullman car and Diggs engaged a drawing room. He paid the Pullman conductor. Miss Norris and Caminetti took the upper berth and Diggs and I had the lower."

"We arrived at Reno the next day—the 10th—at about noon, and went to a cafe for something to eat."

At this point the Court took an adjournment until today.

Diggs and his counsel were 10 minutes late appearing, and in reply to apologies, the Court admonished them that it must not occur again or he would commit them into the custody of the Sheriff.

BOY ADOPTED BY BROWNS DOESN'T KNOW HIS PARENTS

"I Have a Good Home; That's Enough," Says Wilbur, 16, Who Was Taken in at 2.

Wilbur George Brown, 16 years old, who knows no other parents than his wealthy foster-father and foster-mother, George Warren Brown and Mrs. Bette Bofinger Brown of 40 Portland place, became legally their son and heir by the filing of articles of adoption in the Recorder's office at Clayton Tuesday. George W. Brown is president of the Brown Shoe Co.

A Post-Dispatch reporter saw the boy at the Portland place home, soon after the filing of the papers. He had been told of the action, and said that it was no surprise to him, as for several years he had known that Mr. and Mrs. Brown were not his real parents.

"I don't know who my own parents were," he remarked. "I have never been told, and I have never tried to find out. I have been very happy in a good school, and that is enough for me."

The adoption papers did not name the boy's parents. The document stated only that the boy had been tried to find out. I have been very happy in a good school, and that is enough for me."

The Browns have a summer home at Crescent, St. Louis County, and as the boy is away at school during the winter, most of his time with them is spent at the country home.

Wilbur George attends the Boys' Preparatory School at Tarrytown, N. Y., and is fitting for a university course.

His foster-father said the adoption was a step which he and Mrs. Brown long had been determined on, but which had been put off from time to time. He declined to give further information.

Brown is a leading layman of the Methodist Church, as his brother, the late Alanson D. Brown, was in the Baptist church. He and Mrs. Brown have been interested in the Methodist Orphan Home on Maryland avenue, and in other charities, and Mrs. Brown has been prominent in Y. W. C. A. work.

Their neighbors and close friends have known that George Wilbur was an adopted son, but many of their acquaintances supposed he was their own child.

DOG THAT BIT GIRL TWO MONTHS AGO ATTACKS SISTER

Owner Summoned to Court—
Twenty Persons Bitten So Far This Week.

Edward Harrison, 39 years old, living at 374 Cook avenue, was attacked by a stray dog at Grand and Laine avenues Tuesday and was bitten on the left hand and in the groin. He was one of seven persons reported by the police to have been bitten, bringing the total for the week to 23. Harrison said the dog was without collar or muzzle.

A stray dog bit George Blair Jr., 16 years old, of 624 Madison avenue, at Euclid and McPherson avenues, on the left wrist.

John Kait Jr., 11, 242 Bernays avenue, was bitten on the right hand by a dog belonging to Paul Glasserman, 239 East Arlington avenue. The dog was tied in the Glasserman yard and bit the boy when he passed too close. The police served Glasserman with a summons for keeping an uncollared dog.

Others reported bitten are: Mrs. Betty Ernest, negro, 24, 2204 Chestnut street, left thumb; Alice Scott, 3, 447 Easton avenue, left knee, by a dog belonging to William Duly, 445 Easton avenue, who was summoned to court when police were informed that Minnie Scott, sister of Alice, was bitten by the same dog two months ago; Harry Thomas, 7, 204 North Twelfth street, bitten on left wrist by dog belonging to Michael Tracy of 1110 Haxel street, who was summoned for having no license.

The Young People's Federation of St. Louis, an organization made up of the membership of the St. Louis Christian Endeavor Union, Baptist Young People's League, Epworth League, Epworth League South, German Epworth League and Young People's District Association, will give a moonlight boat excursion on the steamer Grey Eagle on Tuesday evening, Aug. 19, one-half the proceeds of which will go to the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund to save the tenement babies.

The suggestion to this end came from Dr. R. T. Mulford, who, with Mr. W. F. Schelp, is in charge of arrangements for the excursion. Dr. Mulford is the physician at the Industrial School and for the clinic at the Boyle Center pure milk station maintained by the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission. He appreciates the good work being done through the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund in raising the money necessary to provide pure milk to the little ones of the poor in the city's crowded districts.

The Grey Eagle will leave the foot of Olive street at 8 p. m. sharp next Tuesday evening and will return about 10:30 p. m. A feature of the evening's entertainment on the boat will be the music furnished by the Salem M. E. Glee Club, composed of about 40 voices. The club will serenade the excursionists from the decks and will add much to the enjoyment of the moonlight ride as popular with St. Louis young people.

Tickets are placed at the moderate price of 25 cents each. Special prizes, ranging from one to 10 free tickets, are offered to those selling the most tickets. The contest closes Aug. 15 and the cash returns must be made to Walter F. Schelp, 64 Merchants-Laclede Building, on or before that date. Tickets can be obtained from the president of the local societies and chapters, in the churches or at the boat.

The annual boat excursion on the Mississippi River is an established social activity of the federation, the officers of which are M. M. Wolff, 218 International Life Building, president; Roy L. Beck, Central Y. M. C. A., secretary; W. L. Ronald, 718 Chestnut street, vice-president, and W. F. Schelp, 64 Merchants-Laclede Building, corresponding secretary. Roy L. Beck, Central Y. M. C. A., is chairman of the Publicity Committee.

The federation was formed over a year ago, by the vote of the several organizations represented, and is devoting itself to the problem of the problems of amusement, caring for strangers in the city, pastoral co-operation, an inter-society journal, employment, organization, a loan fund and making the organizations real training schools.

The moonlight excursion next Tuesday evening promises to be one of the most enjoyable events of the summer. Dora Hill of 1331 Bayard avenue, with the assistance of Ruth Hartman, Elsie Bowers, Mabel Hill, Gladys Fisher, Clara Hill, Helen Howitt, Melville Clements, Ruth Hewitt and Yelma Snodgrass, gave a carnival on the lawn at her home and earned $38.70 for the Pure Milk Fund to save the tenement babies. The decorations were handsome and every booth was well patronized. The young ladies in charge wish to thank the many business firms, who so liberally donated to make the carnival a success.

A clever company of 11 boys living on the 4400 block on Arco avenue gave a show at 4414 Arco avenue, also selling ice cream and lemonade, for the benefit of the Pure Milk Fund and realized $17 with which to help save the babies. They presented two comedies entitled

"The Newsboys" and "In Klondike," a vaudeville program of songs, an Irish jig, recitations and violin music. Those taking part were William and Anthony Brennan, 4475 Arco; Harvey Burns, 4427; Bartley Kelly, 4417; Minor Winkler, 4424; Melville Schuur, 4440; George O'Toole, 4445; William Murphy, 4438; Roy Dunaway, 4438; Ray Melican, 4414, and Frank Miles, 4459 Arco avenue.

Leontine Hackman, aged 10, of 5738 Garfield avenue, assisted by seven of her girl and boy friends, all living on the 5700 block on Garfield avenue, gave a show at her home and earned $3.25 for the tenement babies. An admission fee of 5 cents for grown folks and 1 cent for children was charged, and lemonade was sold at 1 cent per glass.

The program was "Rock of Ages," "Angels' Serenade," "Lullaby," "The Gypsy Wanderer," "Guilty or Not Guilty," School Days, "The Hunter and the Bear," "The Drunkard's Wife," "Novelty Dance," "Gypsy Dance," music and singing. Those assisting Miss Hackman were Anna Buchanan, aged 12, of 5707 Garfield; Genevieve Loller, 12, of 5716; Wilhelmina Sol, 11, of 5713; Jennie Gillett, 11, of 5722; Lilly Sol, 13, of 5713; Robert Loller, 9, of 5714, and Joe Cloncas, 12, of 5720 Garfield avenue.

Lawrence Goldman of 1921 Carr street, Irvin Cytron of 1625 North Sixteenth street and Harry Warsh of 1523 Carr street sold lemonade, orangeade and peanuts at Sixteenth and Carr streets for the benefit of the Pure Milk Fund and earned $4.31 to help save the tenement tots.

Amy Alice Bressler of 5562 Easton avenue and Marion Dejele, 5564 Easton, conducted a lemonade stand in front of the former's home and earned $5 for the Pure Milk Fund.

Ruth Graewsky, aged 10, of 4409A Evans avenue; Blanche Jacobs, aged 7, of 4407A Evans; Lucille Hahne, aged 8, of 4411 Evans, and Rosaline Klein, aged 8, of 4423 Evans, conducted a lemonade stand for the benefit of the Pure Milk Fund—"hoping this will be a little help to the tenement babies," they write—and earned $2 for that good cause.

Alfred Seyfarth of 2661 Arlington avenue; Una Cramer, 3317 Arlington; Bert Moschell, 3346 Arlington, and Eureka Northcraft, 2663 Arlington, earned $1 for the Pure Milk Fund to save the babies.

Cheabrough Millspaugh of 5144 Kensington avenue; and Edward John and George Prendergast of 5008 Raymond avenue, sold lemonade at King's highway and Raymond avenue and earned 80 cents for the Pure Milk Fund.

They wish to return thanks for donations and assistance to E. B. Rivers' Band, consisting of E. B. Rivers, cornetist; Emil Kuntsch, violinist, and F. J. Klopstein, harpist; Gill Bros., grocers; Crystal Grocery Co., H. H. Tenn, druggist; J. M. Mills, druggist; Mengel & Vogt, druggists; L. Harris, for electric lights; J. C. Burgess, dry goods; J. Rueblich, grocer; Weiss Shoe Co. and the Stocker & Son-cent store.

Girls of the Chouteau Place Embroidery Club will give a lawn party on Friday evening at the home of Miss Gladys Mevling, 4257 Maffitt avenue, for the benefit of the Pure Milk Fund to save the babies. They will sell ice cream and other refreshments and there will be many attractive features in the entertainment. In the event of rain, the affair will be postponed to Saturday evening.

THREE ROYAL MARRIAGES
AMONG BALKAN PEOPLE

Two of Czar's Daughters and Rumanian Princess to Be "Brides"—Likely to Insure Future Alliances.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Daily Mail's Bucharest correspondent wires: "Diplomatic circles affirm that a future alliance of the Balkan peoples will be secured by marriages following that of the Princess Elizabeth, aged 18, granddaughter of King Charles of Rou-mania, and Crown Prince George of Greece, 23.

Prince Charles of Roumania, son of the Crown Prince, aged 19, and the Grand Duchess Tatiana, the Czar's second daughter, aged 16, will be married. It is said, also Prince Alexander, the Serbian heir-apparent, aged 24, and the Grand Duchess Olga, the Czar's eldest daughter, aged 17.
A Vienna dispatch says: "Russia has informed Austria that she intends to withdraw from participation in the demand for a revision of the Bucharest peace treaty, in deference to French opinion."

PRESIDENT ASKS
DELAY IN FOUNDING
OF RURAL BANKS

He Would Await Report of Commission Before Establishing Farm Credits System.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—President Wilson issued a statement before the Democratic House caucus resumed consideration of the administration bill today, announcing that he believed it not advisable to amend the measure at present with provisions for rural credits, but to postpone that phase of banking reform until the December session, when the Government commission now studying the subject in Europe will have reported.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, chairman of the caucus, conferred with the President and was acquainted with the contents of the statement through which it was hoped to persuade so-called insurgent Democrats to abandon their fight for agricultural currency. The President said:

"Again and again during the discussion of the currency bill it has been urged that special provision should be made in it for the facilitation of such credits as the farmers of the country most stand in need of—agricultural credit as distinguished from ordinary commercial and industrial credits.

"Such proposals were not adopted because such credits could be only imperfectly provided for in such a measure. The scope and character of the bill, its immediate and chief purpose, could not be made to reach as far as the special interests of the farmer require.

"Special machinery and a distinct system of banking must be provided for if rural credits are to be successfully and adequately supplied. A Government commission is now in Europe studying the interesting and highly successful methods which have been employed in several countries of the Old World and its report will be made to Congress at a regular session next winter.

"It is confidently to be expected that the Congress will at that session, act upon the recommendations of that report and establish a complete and adequate system of rural credits.

"There is no subject more important to the welfare of the industrial development of the United States; there is no reform in which I would myself feel it a greater honor or privilege to take part, because I should feel that it was a service to the whole country of the first magnitude and significance. It should have accompanied and gone hand in hand with the reform of our banking and currency system if we had been ready to act wisely and with full knowledge of what we were about.

He promises Relief.
"There has been too little Federal legislation framed to serve the farmer directly and with a deliberate adjustment that is real needs. We long ago fell into the habit of assuming that the farmers of America enjoyed such an immense natural advantage over the farmers of the rest of the world, were so intelligent and so enterprising and so at ease upon the incomparable soils of our great continent that they could feed the world and prosper, no matter what handicap they carried, no matter what disadvantage, whether of the law or of natural circumstances they labored under.

"We have not exaggerated their capacity or their opportunity, but we have neglected to analyze the burdensome disadvantages from which they were suffering and have too often failed to remove them when we did see what they were.

"Our farmers must have means afforded them of handling their financial needs, easily and inexpensively. They should be furnished these facilities before their enterprises languish, not afterward.

"And they will be. This is our next great task and duty. Not only is a Government commission about to report which is charged with appraising the Congress of the best methods yet employed in this matter, but the Department of Agriculture has also undertaken a serious and systematic study of the whole problem of rural credits.

"The Congress and the executive working together will certainly afford the needed machinery of relief and prosperity to the people of the countryside, and that very soon."

Newletter's to Add Military Department to Store.
President Hammer of Newletter's, Seventh street and Washington avenue, announced Wednesday that the firm was about to open a military department that would handle exclusive styles of foreign and domestic designs. Mr. Hammer declared that the firm had closed with New York and foreign concerns on terms that he expects will enable his concern to surprise women in St. Louis. The new department of Newletter's will handle only the finest millinery in the latest styles. By arrangement with Eastern and foreign concerns the Newletter store will have on exhibition the latest designs in millinery each season at the earliest possible moment. Changes are now being made for a new stock of millinery and the grand opening will be announced at an early date.

The Stix, Baer & Fuller D. G. Co.

Buys entire stock of recently established Women's Apparel specialty house.

Sale Will Begin Tomorrow at

Grand-Leader

The Schuessler Garment Co. just one season ago established their business on the second floor of the building at the Southwest corner of Washington Avenue and Sixth Street, their stock consisting of complete lines of women's and misses' suits, dresses, coats, blouses, skirts and petticoats.

Their venture was an experiment—success depended upon their ability to persuade the public to visit the second floor display rooms. The experiment proved a total failure.

The Schuessler Garment Co. found it impossible to do but half the business required, even for an inexpensive second floor location.

The company was finally declared insolvent, and the entire stock was ordered sold by the United States District Court. We purchased the stock

At 33c on the Dollar

Our entire staff of ready-to-wear specialists is now in the New York markets making selections of new Fall apparel, and though we are making strenuous efforts to clear out our own stocks so as to receive this new Fall apparel to best advantage, the ridiculously low price at which it was possible to secure the stock of the Schuessler Garment Co. proved irresistible.

Tomorrow morning, promptly at 8 o'clock, will begin the sale of the Schuessler Garment Co.'s stock, together with a goodly portion of our own stocks of ready-to-wear apparel, the selling prices of which have been revised downward to the same price-bases on which we are selling the newly-purchased stock.

Women's Coats From Schuessler Stock

The Women's Coats in this wonderful purchase include a great many handsome new novelties bought especially for the coming season. There are boucles, chinchillas, serges, boucle eponges, mistral and a few novelties in Evening Wraps. We have divided the Coats into three lots:

Schuessler's Coats that sold from $16.50 to $19.75, in this sale at $7.50
Schuessler's Coats that sold from $24.75 to $29.75, in this sale at $10.95
Schuessler's Coats that sold from $32.50 to $45, in this sale at $14.75
(Third Floor.)

Women's Suits From Schuessler Stock

We do not remember of any special purchase where there has been such a splendid stock of carefully tailored Suits as came to us in this transaction. A majority of the Suits are of the Spring and Summer style and weight, but there are also many handsome Winter Suits that had been purchased for the coming season. The entire stock of women's Suits has been divided into three lots:

Schuessler's Suits that sold from $16.50 to $22.50, in this sale at $7.95
Schuessler's Suits that sold from $19.75 to $24.75, in this sale at $9.95
Schuessler's Suits that sold from $29.75 to $39.75, in this sale at $14.75
(Third Floor.)

Women's Dresses From Schuessler Stock

These are Dresses suitable for afternoon, dress and evening wear, and the materials consist of net, shadow lace, chiffon, charmeuse, brocades, voiles and lingerie. This is a collection that will appeal to the woman requiring an extra gown to complete her wardrobe to fill out the season. There are many beautiful little dresses among these that you will get at a wonderfully small price and it will pay you to be in the department early to get first choice.

Schuessler's Lingerie Dresses that sold from $12.50 to $15, in this sale at $5
Schuessler's Silk, Charmeuse and Crepe Gowns that sold from $15 to $19.50, in this sale at $7.50
Schuessler's Chiffon Dancing Frocks that sold from $22.50 to $29, in this sale at $12.50
(Third Floor.)

Waists From the Schuessler Stock

We venture that this is one of the cleanest and freshest looking Waist stocks that has ever been purchased in a sale of this kind. There are many beautifully stylish and dainty Waists that look as if they had never been out of their original packages. SENATORS' ADVICE IGNORED; CLAYTON NAMED SENATOR

Gov. O'Neal Holds He Has Power to Select Man—Majority Again in Danger.

By Associated Press.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 13.—Congressman D. Clayton has been named by Gov. O'Neal as United States Senator, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Joseph F. Johnston.

Clayton's commission was delivered to him shortly after 5 p. m. yesterday, in the Governor's office. Clayton has started to Washington, but he will not resign his seat in the House until he is seated in the Senate.

Gov. O'Neal issued a statement, saying:

"I do not believe it ever was contemplated that any Senator should be deprived of his right of equal representation in the Senate, and I am of the opinion that the seventeenth amendment does not apply, so far as filling vacancies is concerned, to the term of any Senator chosen before the seventeenth amendment became a part of the Constitution.

"I am not unmindful that an important constitutional question is presented, but unless the proviso that the amendment shall not be construed so as to affect the election or term of any Senator, was intended to except from the operation of the seventeenth amendment, not only the elections but the terms of the Senators chosen before it became valid, I can see no other field of operation for the language employed."

Democratic Senators Had Urged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Surprise was expressed by Democratic leaders of the Senate when they learned that Gov. O'Neal had disregarded their advice and had appointed Representative Henry D. Clayton to succeed the late Senator Johnston, without express authority from the Alabama Legislature.

"It is my opinion that Mr. Clayton will not be seated," said Senator Overman, acting chairman of the Judiciary Committee. "The members of the Judiciary Committee and a majority of the lawyers of the Senate were of the opinion that the seventeenth amendment to the Constitution does not give the Governor authority to appoint a Senator except under expressed directions from the Legislature."

Senator Kern had sent a second telegram to the Governor, urging him to call a special session of the Legislature to grant him authority to name a Senator ad interim. Senator Simmons also had sent a message emphasizing the importance of Senator Kern's request. Both Senators pointed out that it was important that there should be no possibility of a contest.

Clayton is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and has served 16 years in Congress.

Democratic leaders, having lost a vote through the death of Senator Johnston, now are worried further by the continued absence, on account of serious illness, of Senator Culberson of Texas. No word, it is said, can be communicated to the Senator who is undergoing treatment in Connecticut.

MAN POISONED, DIES BEFORE DOCTOR ARRIVES

Cooper Found in Basement of Sister's Home With Acid Glass Under Coat.

George Rauh, 53 years old, a cooper, was found dying at 10:45 p. m. Tuesday on the floor in the basement of the home of his sister, Mrs. Frank Leba, with whom he lived, at 4272 Goethe avenue. A glass, which had contained carbolic acid, was found under the coat. He died before a physician arrived.

Mrs. Leba told the police Rauh had been despondent because of illness. The police of the Mountford District were told by Joseph Schneider, 424 Gravois avenue, that Rauh met him in the afternoon and invited him to take a drink with him, saying it would be the last drink they would have together.

EUGENICS SEEN AS WAY OF ESCAPE FROM CANCER

Discovery in Mice Suggests That Cross-Breeding May Make Humans Immune.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—"Results of the highest importance to the world will flow from the International Medical Congress which closed in London today," said Dr. J. B. Murphy, the physician who treated ex-President Theodore Roosevelt after he was shot in Milwaukee last October.

"The Harriman research laboratories

In Boston made an extraordinary contribution to the knowledge of the congress," he said, "disclosing two facts of surprising value and promise relative to cancer. The first is that Japanese 'waiting mouse' and the Jensen mouse, both of which can be infected with cancer, will not take the disease when cross-bred. The second is that the cancer tissue, or germ, spreads in the organism in 20 days after its appearance.

"The first of these discoveries points to the possibility that the human species when cross-bred may be immune from cancer. If this is so, we are brought directly to eugenics as a means of escape from a scourge that has hitherto baffled man.

"We in America can quickly make decisive investigations in this connection. We can see whether cross-breeds of black and white are subject to cancer. Similar investigations can be made in England, where the Hebrew and the Saxon have cross-bred for some centuries.

"The Boston revelations give us a striking fact in the Mendelian law; namely, that while externals pass from parent to progeny in a certain way, internals do not necessarily do so. In other words, we find a mouse produced by cross-breeding two strains differs constitutionally from both.

"The time required for the migration of cancer from one part of the body to another is an important piece of knowledge. The investigators infected animals with primary cancer and found that secondary cancer was developed elsewhere almost without exception in 30 days.

"Thus we learn the necessity of operating quickly or not at all. If a person develops cancer of the lip and the diseased part is not removed within at least 30 days we know that it will be useless to operate, as the disease would certainly appear in some other place.

Standardization Progress.

"This congress will be called the Congress of Standardization. Medical science and surgical science throughout the world now have their approved standards. The profession has heard the weightiest word, and for the moment the last word on diseases and their treatment. The fruits of the congress, thanks to the media of the scientific press and the acute interest of the profession, will reach the remotest parts of civilization. "Mankind may well be grateful for the disclosures pertaining to surgery alone—surgery of the brain, nerve, bone and joints, the throat, eye, nose and ear, while too much praise cannot be bestowed upon that illustrious pathologist, Dr. Ehrlich."

"BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER"

Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Thinness of the blood, or anemia, is common in young folks as well as old. Especially is it the case with those who work in ill-ventilated factories—or those who are shut up indoors in winter time with a coal stove burning up the oxygen or emitting carbonic (oxide) gas. This blood, or blood which lacks the red blood corpuscles, in anemic people may have been caused by lack of good fresh air breathed into lungs, or by poor digestion or dyspepsia. Sometimes people suffer intense pain over the heart which is not heart disease at all, but caused by indigestion. Whatever the cause, there's just one remedy that you can turn to—knowing that it has given satisfaction for over 40 years.

WEAK HEART HIS EXCUSE FOR BAD REALTY TRADE

Man Sues to Recover Purchase Price, Pleading Valvular Trouble Incapacitated Him.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 12.—Valvular heart trouble so weakened his will power that he succumbed to the blandishments of a real estate dealer and bought a house he did not want, for $275—far more than he was able to pay, was the allegation made today by E. E. Lettzel in a common pleas suit.

Lettzel with his wife, Lillian, brought suit to have the purchase set aside, to have Mrs. Cora Wise, former owner, pay back the $200 he paid, give up $175 worth of promissory notes, and pay $500 damages.

According to Lettzel, his heart was in bad condition when the deal was discussed and the purchase made. He declares his condition weakened his judgment, and that his wife, being accustomed to business transactions, failed to see that the house would not be a good purchase.

NEGRO ROBS ROOM OF WOMAN; SHOT BY PATROLMAN

He Is Wounded in Heel When He Jumps Over Fence After Burglary at 5 A. M.

John Williams, a negro, was shot in the right heel by Patrolman Robbins of the Deer Street Station and was arrested at 6 a. m. Wednesday after the room of Miss Abbie Selby at 438 Morgan street had been entered and a purse containing $50 had been stolen. The negro was captured in a chase after he had been found hiding in the basement doorway at 454 Delmar boulevard. He threw away the stolen purse as he ran.

Miss Elizabeth Young of Philadelphia and Miss Selby were sleeping in a room on the first floor. At 5:30 a. m. Miss Young saw a negro enter the door and grab her purse from a dresser.

She screamed and the negro ran through a rear door and jumped over a fence into the alley. A man going to work told the patrolman he saw a negro run into the rear yard at the home of Mrs. Ida Duke, 454 Delmar boulevard.

Robbins found Williams crouching in a rear doorway there and fired two shots as the negro ran toward the alley. One bullet struck the negro in the heel as he leaped over the fence and he fell. He was sent to the city hospital. The purse and money were recovered.

Williams told the police he lives at 428 Fairfax avenue, and said he went into the yard at 454 Delmar avenue to look for a doctor, who had sent for him to come and cut the grass on his lawn. He denied he had been at the home of Miss Selby.

WOMEN VOTERS WORKING FOR NON-VOTING SISTERS

Conference Meets in Washington to Lay Plans for National Suffrage.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Women voters representing 4,000,000 of their sex in many states gathered today as delegates to a three-days' conference of the National Council of Women Voters.

Plans will be laid for the extension of universal suffrage in states not now extending the franchise to women and ways and means for the prosecution of a vigorous campaign will be discussed.

The women will hold both morning and afternoon sessions, but the public will be excluded, not even women in sympathy with the "cause," but natives of nonsuffrage states being admitted.

The only exceptions will be tomorrow, when the conferees will appear before the House Rules Committee to ask for the creation of a Woman Suffrage Committee in that body, and Friday night, when a mass meeting will be held in a downtown theater.

States represented at the opening conference included California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming.

GIRL CAUSES ARREST OF GARMENT STRIKERS

Says Man Grabbed Her by Arm and Told Her She Must Join Ranks of Strikers.

Morris Schevitzky, 23 years old, of 2903 Thomas street, a striking garment worker, was arrested Wednesday on the complaint of Miss Elsie Stendel, 17 years old, an employee of the Froelich Cloak Co., 1409 Locust street.

The girl told the police Schevitzky accosted her as she was going to work and demanded that she join the union. He grabbed her by the arm, she said, and told her that she must join the strikers, and that the union would pay her $10 a day to do picket duty.

Schevitzky said he asked Miss Stendel to join the union, but denied that he took her by the arm or spoke rudely to her.

SKULL BROKEN BY BRICK

Restaurant Man Seriously Hurt in Quarrel With Negro.

Theodore Sides, 35 years old, proprietor of a Greek restaurant at 713 North Sixteenth street, is in a critical condition at the city hospital from injuries inflicted by a negro with whom he quarreled Tuesday night over payment for a meal.

His skull was fractured by a brick thrown by the negro after Sides had hit him several times with a club. The negro escaped.

SEEKS HER LOST SISTER

Rich Hill Woman Asks Police to Find Miss Eliza C. Tweddill.

A letter from Mrs. Lizzie Mudd of Rich Hill, Mo., has been received by the police asking them to find her sister, Miss Eliza C. Tweddill, 19 years old. Mrs. Mudd writes she has not seen her for several years.

The police learned that Miss Tweddill formerly worked as a servant for Albert Dietz, 936A Highland avenue. Dietz told the police she left his employ three years ago when she became despondent because of a love affair.

At Grocers

To Put on Flesh and Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one pound, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all a matter of the nature of the food. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They just absorb enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Staying won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single pound.

All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestine until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare those fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh-building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of the man or woman from three to five pounds a week.

Sargol is sold by Judge & Dolph, Walpert Drug Co., St. Louis; Wolf-Wilson, Johnson Bros. and other good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back—ADV.

Here's A Lucky Gold Plated "Mascot" Pin

FREE To Every Purchaser of a 5 cent Pouch of My Good MASCOT Tobacco

I have had the familiar figure of my dog "Mascot," who appears on every pouch of MASCOT Tobacco, made into a handsome gold-plated Scarf Pin as a souvenir for MASCOT smokers. I want every smoker in town to have one—and the ladies will be delighted with these Pins, too. You know that a MASCOT is a "Lucky piece or talisman—something or somebody which ensures good fortune to the possessor."—STANDARD DICTIONARY. Well, that's just what my MASCOT Pin is—wear it, and you'll have "Good Luck." In fact, it brings you "Good Luck" right off the reel—because you have got to buy MASCOT Tobacco to get it—and MASCOT Tobacco is the greatest "Good Luck" that ever happened to smokers.

I feel that I can afford to give away these handsome MASCOT Pins, because they will get more smokers acquainted with MASCOT Tobacco—and to get acquainted with MASCOT is to become a lifelong friend. Don't fail to get your MASCOT Pin today—go to your dealer for a 5c pouch of MASCOT Tobacco. (Only one Pin to each customer.)

MASCOT

There was never one like it—for pipe and cigarette

MASCOT Tobacco is now a big, established success. Its sales are growing so fast that all the other tobacco manufacturers are getting worried. They should worry—because MASCOT is absolutely the highest-grade tobacco, and the biggest quantity of it ever sold for a nickel! They cannot keep smokers away from a big landmark value like MASCOT.

MASCOT has not only won on quality, but on its delightful freshness and fragrance! Hundreds of thousands of smokers have grown tired of dried-up tobaccos and they are swarming to MASCOT with shouts of joy because MASCOT is one tobacco that is always fresh.

No better Burley tobacco than MASCOT ever came out of Kentucky. Every leaf is fully ripened, barn cured, aged until mellow and sweet—then crushed-cut and packed, fresh, fragrant and delicious, in the handy, pocket-fitting, red cloth pouch.

Try a cool, mild pipeful or roll a fragrant cigarette from MASCOT today. You'll realize that for the first time you have obtained genuine 10 cent quality tobacco for 5 cents.

TRUE PHILOSOPHY OF SAN ANTONIO LADY

This Statement of an Elderly Lady Has the Ring of Conviction and Truth.

"If we could only know what is good for us and what will help us, how much needless suffering we might escape." Such was the statement of Mrs. Holmes of Box No. 327, route No. 7, in San Antonio, Tex. Mrs. Holmes said:

"For many years I have been a sufferer with indigestion, stomach and kidney troubles and only a few weeks ago I learned what would help me. Had I known of Plant Juice ten years ago, just think of the pain I might have escaped. Plant Juice is a good and true remedy that does all that is claimed for it, and every sick person should at least try it. I know that many of them would be cured by its use."

There is true philosophy in the statement of Mrs. Holmes. Thousands of Texas people have found new life and energy in Plant Juice just as she has. Many will wish, too, that they had known of it sooner, and thereby been spared much suffering. Plant Juice is the world's greatest tonic and curative for all derangements of the stomach, kidneys, liver and blood. It brings new health, vigor and energy in a marvelous manner. The Plant Juice man is at the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Sixth and Washington. Call and let him explain this great remedy. Get a bottle from him and if it does not help you, he will return your money.

HEAD COVERED WITH DRY SCALE

Hair Came Out, Head Itched and Bled. Could Not Attend School. Two Cakes of Cuticura Soap and One Box Cuticura Ointment Cured.

3760 Tamm Ave., St. Louis, Mo.—"My little daughter's head began with a dry harsh scale covering it. First it got a white scale over the top and then it got a dirty brown scale with pus under it. Her hair came out in less than a week and her head itched and bled. She had no rest. I had her wear a scarf all the time, it looked so badly. She was so sore and had such big brown scales on her head that the teacher would not let her attend school."

"We took and had her treated for three months with no relief. She kept getting worse until I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap every third day and the Cuticura Ointment at night. After three days the scales began to come off and new hair to come in. In three weeks her head was well of scales. Two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment completely cured her." (Signed) Mrs. Walter Rogers, Nov. 28, 1912.

Why not have a clear skin, soft white hands, a clean scalp and good hair? It is your birthright. Cuticura Soap with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will bring about these coveted conditions in most cases when all else fails. A single set is often sufficient. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

TANGO SKIRT IS AMONG THE LATEST STYLES IN FALL

Slim Gown and Diaphanous Dress to Stay, but With Touch of Modesty.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Hamlet without Hamlet, or you can have your cake and eat it, will be the motto of madame's garb next fall. There will be silks without any opening, shadow skirts without any view. It will be a season of compromises.

These things are evident at the annual style review of the Chicago Garment Manufacturers' Association, which opened last night. And they are authoritative for it is the claim of the Chicago garment manufacturers that fashions for a majority of American women are created in this city.

Skirts will be just as tight and just this and just as slit as they were this year. It is only they won't look that way. The sensible American woman, according to one leading designer, wants the graceful, smart effect of the narrow slit skirt, but she wants it less conspicuous than any other. If there is any preference it is in various shades of green. The same freedom is noticed in materials. If there is any preference in the latter it is toward sobriety, the Bulgarians being somewhat more subdued and the combinations of cloth less hectic.

Among the novelties is what is called a tango skirt. This is built along the architectural lines of a coat skirt. It buttons around instead of going on over the head. This has the added advantage of providing an elastic slit, a sliding scale of frankness. The wearer can leave as many of the lower buttons unbuttoned as she chooses.

Colored furs will be a distinctive note in winter wear. Cloaks of new and varied materials, worn with fur hats and fur collars, will be most conspicuous. Evening gowns will have the same general tendency, although there will be more room for originality of treatment. One of the novelties is what is known as the butterfly wrap. Here is a technical description: Coral colored broadened, cut from one piece, draped to give the butterfly effect. A most unusual collar effect is obtained by a large bow made of moleskin. The wrap is worn over the butterfly evening gown in coral colored crepe, meteor and chiffon, trimmed with rhinestones.

POSSES IN BOATS, ON HORSES, HUNT FOR GIRL'S SLAYER

Hundreds of Men Search River and Woods at Lexington, Mo., for Young Negro.

By Associated Press.
LEXINGTON, Mo., Aug. 12.—Several hundred men, in motor boats, on horseback and on foot, today continued beating the country about Lexington in search of Goldie Winkfield, a young negro, accused of attacking and murdering Estelle Potter, a 13-year-old girl, whose body was found in a ravine on her father's farm yesterday.

About a thousand men, divided into a dozen posses, kept up the search all night. A number of them this morning said they thought the negro must have thrown himself into the Missouri River.

Sentiment here is so strong against the negro that open threats have been made to lynch him. A minister of the town assisted in organizing the posses, after declaring the negro should be "hanged or burned."

Bloodhounds on Trail.
Bloodhounds placed on the trail last night stopped at the Missouri River bank two miles south of here. At that point a belt belonging to Winkfield was found and it was discovered that a boat that had been tied up there was missing. Believing the negro had crossed the stream the dogs were taken to the other bank. When they failed to pick up a trail, the posse leaders concluded the negro had gone down the river in the boat.

to PALE, THIN PEOPLE

Druggist Wolff-Wilson Offers to Pay for Samose if It Does Not Make Thin People Fat.

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, Nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

The woman who longs for rosy cheeks and the plumpness of beauty should use Samose. The man who wants to be strong and well and gain health and good flesh will find his desires accomplished by Samose.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that Druggist Wolff-Wilson is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. They make this offer generally and want all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from them on those terms.

By Jean Knott

EAST'S SWIMMERS DECLINE TO MEET WESTERN EXPERTS

Absence of Bud Goodwin From 10-Mile Event Attributed to Fear of Defeat.

CHICAGO ENTRY STRONG

McGillivray, McDermott and Others Are Favorites in Mississippi Event.

By Clarence F. Lloyd

The East no longer is superior to the West in swimming, according to Coach Tom Whitaker of the Missouri Athletic Club, who attributes the rapid development of the paddlers in this section to the non-entry of any New Yorker in the A. U. 10-mile swim in the Mississippi River, Labor day.

Since Bud Goodwin of the New York A. C. was in his prime, Whitaker contends that the West has outdone the East in producing speed paddlers, both in a sprinting and distance way. He looks for the Western men to take the foremost honors in the river splash.

Whether the winner will bob up in a St. Louis or Chicago man, however, remains to be seen. Hereabouts, faith is pinned in Chaucer, Leath, the slim web-footed wonder, a formidable list of talent in training for the local splash.

To better prepare these men for the contest, Bachrach has entered them in a series of distance races leading up to the local event. They include races in Chicago, Milwaukee and Put-in-Bay.

McDermott is again in training. Following his trip to the Olympic games in Sweden a year ago, he hurt himself and didn't compete for a long time. But he's at it again, and is said to be plowing through the water as fast as ever.

McGillivray a Distance Star.

From Chicago comes the report that in Perry McGillivray, the swimming world is soon to have one of the best distance swimmers in the country. Having won his spurs as a sprinter, McGillivray is now the best swimmer in his class.

From this list, Bachrach has picked Perry McGillivray, Merriam, Rathel, Vosburgh and McDermott for the St. Louis swim. Others will be added if they show form when the season is in the meantime.

Whitaker has picked Heath, Murphy, Rose, Brallier, Burke, Becker, Kravitz and Laubs as the M. A. C. entry. He looks to Heath to lead the race, but believes Murphy, Rose and Brallier have chances to finish well to the fore.

This squad is working three afternoons a week at Larchmont's Lake in St. Louis County. Whitaker sends them over about two and one-quarter miles. It is well watered in the open end and from Sanford, 6-8, is equal in speed to seven miles of paddling in the river.

WRAY'S COLUMN

FOR the first time in 17 years an international fight on which the world's lightweight pugilistic title will depend, will be fought before the Brighthouse Athletic Club, Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 1, when Willie Ritchie meets Fred Welsh of England.

Seventeen years ago Kid Lavigne went across the Atlantic and put out Dick Burge for the championship. Since the time the little Michigan man put the anesthetic into his opponent's system there has been no encounter of as world-wide importance as the coming one.

This fact makes it all the more regrettable that the contest will be of the sort that will cause the occupants of expensive ringside seats to frame a strong complaint. Without the aid of a clairvoyant and knowing only the styles of the men as told in detailed accounts of past fights, it is safe to predict that the encounter will be "highly scientific" and decidedly tame.

It's the old, old story of pitting two very clever men together. The result is a maximum of defense and a minimum of fighting.

Defense Is All Right, But—

The art of protecting the features is carried to the Nth power, and then some. Often have we seen scientific fighters battle, and precisely that number of times has an ordinary, even tame, encounter resulted. To the man interested in studying the finesse of blockading, slipping, side-stepping, footwork and countering, this sort of performance is a marvel. But who wants to see the NEGATIVE side of a game whose primal element is aggression?

It's Just a Phrase.

If we come right out and face the proposition honestly, boxing as a "manly art of self-defense" occupies the same relation to the popular mind that riding down as a "developing of thoroughbred cavalry stock for the army." Both phrases are mere can't.

Strong Against Weaklings.

WILLIE RITCHIE put away Joe Rivers because the latter developed a strong ochre tendency. He had put away nothing of importance, prior to this bout, except food. He is essentially a sparring, if descriptions of his bouts are correct, and Welsh is of the same ilk.

Wood's failure this season is the principal reason why the Red Sox are not again potential contenders. He was injured early in the season, a sprained thumb preventing him from putting up his puzzling curve to the batters and he has been ordered to rest the member until it has completely healed.

STOVALL TO FILE PROTEST AGAINST SILK O'LOUGHLIN

Browns' Manager Asserts Empire's Language to Mitchell Was Unprovoked.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The Cards arrived this morning to start their final series of the year on the Polo Grounds. It is a hoodoo date for a start, but Huggins says that if that were the only thing he had to bother about he would not consider the immediate prospect at all.

Otto Crandall and Manager Huggins got together this morning for a heart-to-heart talk over the size of the monthly check that would be slipped into the "old doctor's" pay envelope this month. The Browns pulled up stakes last night and started westward. Despite the fact the Browns won the last battle by a 7 to 3 score, tying the series with the Yanks, Stovall was not in a very good humor when he left. Unless he changes his mind before he gets back to St. Louis he is going to hand San Johnson a most emphatic kick against Silk O'Loughlin.

O'Loughlin, he positively declares, was the aggressor in the little set-to with Pitcher Mitchell and he acted as though he regretted that his duty compelled him to jump between the angry pitcher and the umpire to save the latter from a punch that Mitchell seemed just aching to get rid of.

Umpire Backs Away.

O'Loughlin, too, seemed to think it was coming to him, and he acted as though he hated to wait for it. With his mask in his hand, and a wild look in his eyes he drew away from the angry pitcher as he kept ordering him out of the game. Stovall justified in his remark to Mitchell, which started the trouble. Mitchell walked in quietly with the other players.

Referring to a pitch that he thought was over, but which O'Loughlin had called a ball, he asked: "How did you come to miss that one?" Then, says Mitchell and Stovall, O'Loughlin came back with a good excuse, a good excuse, to put you out of the game, you yellow cow.

The whole storm broke utterly without warning, and no one in the stand had the slightest inkling there was any trouble until they saw O'Loughlin backing away from Mitchell and Stovall and Jack Knight of the Yankees jumping in between them.

O'Loughlin Takes "Hit."

When Mitchell was safely blocked off Stovall went after O'Loughlin with a line of talk that would ordinarily set a man smiling for a month, but O'Loughlin let it pass and contented himself with sending Mitchell to the clubhouse.

Up to the time of his banishment Mitchell was pitching a great game of ball and by dint of some good hitting his teammates had scored a 2-1 lead; so, of course, he gets credit for a win.

HOT WEATHER HINTS.

Don't push the button on a street car until the last minute; someone else is getting off at the same street might do it for you.

When going up in an elevator never announce your floor until you are certain no one else is getting off at the same floor.

Eat nothing but the very lightest of food. If you really feel in need of a square meal, eat crackers.

Avoid heated arguments. If a man asks you if it's hot enough for you, simply say "yes." The easiest way is the best, and besides, he may be a devoted parent and a good provider.

Never stand up in a street car. If the car is crowded, call a taxi.

TENARA IS FAVORITE

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 13.—This was M. & M. day at the Grand Circuit meet, and it was confidently predicted that, given favorable racing conditions, a new record for the classic of the trotting turf would be established. With two $10,000 stakes and one of $12,000 already in her credit this year, the great Kentucky mare, Tonara, naturally was conceded the best chance to take the large share of the $10,000 prize. Judson Girl, Creosote, Pleusena, Santos Maid, Star Winter and Vivia were the others listed to start, and admirers of some of these fast ones declared Tenara would have to lower her bet of 2-10 in order to win.

ST. LOUIS BOXERS GET MATCHES ON THE COAST

Three St. Louis boxers will appear on the same card of a boxing show in San Francisco Friday, although not against each other. Harry Trendall, the "Fridge of the Patch," goes on with the "Bobbles" Robinson, whom he has met before; Leo Kelly, the "Fridge of Compton Hill," tackles Young White, and Francis Hennessey meets Roy Moore. Moore recently fought Eddie Campi, and should Hennessey earn a decision over him he will be in line for a long bout.

BINGHAMPTON HURLER IS SIGNED BY BROWNS

Joe Thomas One Fighter to Make Good Out of the Ring

Nerve and Coolness Make Him a Success in the Business World Just as It Landed Three Titles for Him When He Was in His Boxing Prime.

By Robert Edgren

A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Joe Thomas is showing the world that it is possible for a fighter to leave the ring and make good in business. In his time Joe was one of the cleverest of all the middleweight champions. Today, after scores of the hardest fights ever fought, he has retired without even a scratch or a mark of any kind as a souvenir of his strenuous profession. He is in New York as a salesman for a Boston cigar firm, and is doing a rushing business.

Joe was a natural boxer. In his fights he was always cool as ice. He moved less and did more execution than any other middleweight of his time.

"You see," said Joe in explaining his style of boxing, "I was naturally slow on my feet and quick with my hands. I went to Sacred Heart to study when I was a boy and was a good catcher and a good hitter. I could throw a ball with anybody. I never let a man steal second on me. I often knocked out what should be two and three batters, but I felt lucky when I could get to first, because I couldn't run."

Joe seemed to like himself. "I boxed all the time for food in exhibitions, and became pretty clever. I refused to box in any competitions because my family did not like the idea. But one night I went to see the Coast championships. The fellow who was to box the featherweight champion didn't show up, and they asked me to box him. I refused. He came around and struck me a blow in the face as I sat in my chair.

"I sent for my shoes and tight. I'll fight you," I said. In the ring he did all the talking with the referee and when he was through I just said quietly: 'You struck me; now I'm going to give you the worst beating you ever got.' "It always had that confidence. In the first round I went into see if I could outbox him, and I did. In the second I said to myself: 'I'll see if I can outfight him.' I did, and in the third round I knocked him out. I was Coast featherweight champion in my first fight. I went on after that and won the lightweight, welterweight and middleweight championships, never losing a fight in eight years."

Morris May Come Back.

Carl Morris is still swinging around the circuit, making good. There is a chance that Carl may still become the real "white hope." He's big enough, game enough, and certainly ambitious enough. His latest feat is the knocking out of Fred McKay, the 6-foot 6-inch Canadian, in the third round of a bout at Winnipeg.

McKay is not an easy mark. Since the unhappy evening when he took an overhand swing on the jaw from Gunboat Smith and thought he had fallen from the top of a skyscraper, he has been doing some very good fighting. Kubak insists that Morris has the best left hand in the profession. It was a left that started McKay's drop, followed by a right that caught him before he reached the floor.

MICHIGAN ROWING CLUB SEEKING TO SIGN LOCAL COACH

Mound City's Successful Instructor in Demand in Other Cities.

The Mound City Rowing Club has invited Coach Brown to return to St. Louis to take charge of the Madison street regatta again next summer, but to date he has made no definite reply to the offer. Brown has served as one of the crew coaches at Harvard and occasionally takes a position as coach of some rowing club during the vacation season.

He has had remarkable success with the Mound City oarsmen this summer and members are pleased with his work and want him to return. Brown has also received offers from other clubs, including the Grand Rapids Boat and Canoe Club, but hasn't decided if he will coach again next summer.

"If I decide to coach again, I may return to the Mound City Club in 1914," said Coach Brown to the Post-Dispatch. "I have received a couple of invitations to coach other clubs but have given none of them a definite answer."

Has Not Picked Crew.

Coach Brown is having a bit of difficulty in picking his four-oared crew for the Bush cup race on the Mississippi River next Sunday afternoon. Illinois has prevented three of his best men from taking their regular workout.

The two Bradshaws, who are regarded as regulars in this boat, have been ailing with fever. So has Jordan, who has a slight touch of trouble. Coach Brown has not yet decided if he will pick from Johnson or Grimm.

Because of the illness of these men the Mound City Club may be able to send only one crew to the state, although it was Coach Brown's plan to have his first and second crews pull. The St. Louis Rowing Club, however, has not been able to pick the other clubs in the local harbor one each.

DUNDEE HANDS "KAYO" TO WHITE IN NINTH

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 13.—Johnny Dundee, the New York Italian, scored a knockout over Jack White, the Chicago lightweight, in the ninth round of their scheduled 20-round bout here last night. A left hook to the jaw put White to the mat. When he struck the floor Referee Byron realized that he would be able to concuss and did not count him out. White was felled in the third and sixth rounds.

Japan Will Protect Chinese Rebel Leader, but Will Not Permit Plotters to Stay There.

TOKIO, Aug. 12.—One hundred assassins have been sent to Japan to kill Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Huang Sing and other Chinese revolutionary fugitives by Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai of China, according to the Japanese newspapers today.

The Japanese Government, in consequence of these reports, has arranged to give police protection to the leaders of the Chinese revolution who have sought asylum in Japan. It declares, however, that it will not permit Japan to be used as headquarters for Chinese plotters.

ENDS BACKACHE AND KIDNEY DISORDERS

Croxone Helps Lifeless Organs Regain Health, Strength and Activity.

It is useless, dangerous and unnecessary to be tortured with the digging, twisting pains of backache or suffer disagreeable kidney and bladder disorders when Croxone is guaranteed to promptly and surely relieve all such misery.

Croxone masters these troubles because it quickly reaches the cause of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, through the membranes and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and makes the kidneys filter and sift from the blood the waste and poisonous matter that clog the system and cause such troubles. It does not matter whether you have but slight symptoms or a chronic, aggravated case, it is practically impossible to take Croxone without results.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if you are not entirely satisfied the very first time you use it.—Advertisement.

PIPER'S ESTATE
$790, IS AWARDED
TO HIS WIDOW

Her Request That No Letters of Administration Be Issued Also Is Granted.

SHE ESTIMATES THE VALUE

Claims Allowance of $400 and Says She Needs $1500 More for Maintenance.

The personal estate left by Edmund J. Piper, president of the Bolman Bros. Piano Co., who ended his life July 18 by swallowing carbolic acid at his home, 654 Waterman avenue, amounted to only $790, and was awarded Wednesday to his widow, Mattie G. Piper, by Judge Shackelford of the St. Louis County Probate Court.

Judge Shackelford also granted the petition of Mrs. Piper that no letters of administration be issued because the estate was so small, and ordered that no letters of administration be granted to creditors unless it be shown that Piper left additional property.

Widow's Affidavit Fixes Value.

The value of $790 was fixed by an affidavit of Mrs. Piper filed with her petition. The widow claimed $400 as her allowance, and stated she will need $1500 additional for her maintenance for a year in lieu of provisions which should have been provided before her husband's death.

Under the Missouri law the widow is entitled to ask that she be appointed administrator of her husband's estate, and if she fails to apply for letters of administration in a specified time creditors have the right to demand administration of the estate. Where the estate is so small that the allowance to the widow is not fully satisfied the Court has the right to deny letters of administration to prevent the property from being expended for costs and litigation.

Furniture Listed at $250.

A list of the property left by Piper and its value, as set forth in the affidavit of Mrs. Piper, follows:

A Bible, $10; household furniture, $250; provisions in the house, $5; a bond of the Organized Investment Co., $25; a note signed by Max F. Ruler, dated July 1, 1911, and due one year after date, $500.

A note for $200, signed by Henry Smith, dated Feb. 3, 1913, and due one year after date, is stated to be of "no value" and is not computed in placing a value on the estate.

NOONDAY MASSES FOR

at of Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be celebrated Friday, August 15, at Old Cathedral, Third and Walnut streets, and the other at St. John's Church, Sixteenth and Chestnut streets. The masses will be held for the benefit of downtown worshipers.

A solemn requiem mass will be celebrated in St. John's Church at 9 a. m., Thursday, for the repose of the soul of the Rev. John Bannan, S. J., who died in Dublin, Ireland, July 14. Father Bannan built St. John's Church, which was dedicated in the fall of 1880. The following year he became chaplain of the Confederate Army and never returned to St. Louis.

NUDE BOYS SWIM IN VIEW OF RELAY DEPOT

Several Negroes Arrested With White Youth, Complain They Can't Bathe in St. Louis.

"September Morn" herself would have been shocked, the East St. Louis police say, could she have seen eight boys swimming near the Relay Depot Tuesday afternoon. The boys did not even wear a smile when they were arrested. As every passenger train passes through East St. Louis stops at the Relay Depot the station agent there considered it his duty to notify the police when he saw seven little negroes and a white boy swimming in a pond just a few feet away from and within unobstructed view of the station.

The police seized the clothing of the lads on the bank before making the arrests. The negroes explained they were from St. Louis and that as they were deprived of bathing privileges at the Fairground pool they had gone to East St. Louis to take a plunge. After being cautioned the prisoners were released. Their ages ranged from 15 to 17 years.

FALLS ON A BEER BOTTLE

Man Seriously Cut, Is Taken to Hospital.

Louis Bush, 55 years old, single, 1810 Lafayette avenue, going to bed at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday, slipped on a beer bottle left on the floor of his room, fell on the bottle and suffered a deep cut in his back.

He was taken to the city hospital where the wound was found to be dangerous.

WATCHMAN HELD FOR MAN'S DEATH
BY BLOW OF FIST

Information Charging Manslaughter Issued Against Carr Park Employee.

An information charging manslaughter was issued Tuesday against George W. Decker, watchman at Carr Park. It is alleged that a blow from his fist resulted in the death of Michael Kennedy, 60 years old, of 1719 Division street.

Kennedy was struck in the face and knocked down by Decker July 23. His head struck a manhole covering and he died at the city hospital last Saturday from a fractured skull. The verdict of the coroner's jury, Monday, was that Kennedy's death was the result of an accident.

Spoke to Instructor.

Miss Lucille Stoddard of 115 South King's highway, one of the instructors at Carr Park Playgrounds, testified that as she was entering the park at Fifteenth and Wash streets July 23, Kennedy, who was holding to one of the gate posts, addressed a remark to her which she did not understand.

Watchman Decker appeared and Miss Stoddard told him of the occurrence and walked on toward the playgrounds.

She looked back a minute later, she said, and saw Kennedy fall.

Mrs. Sadie Oscar and Mrs. Etta James, both of whom reside at 223 North Fifteenth street, testified that they saw the watchman strike Kennedy twice in the face and then kick him as he fell. They did not see Kennedy strike Decker, they said.

Pleads Self-Defense.

Decker testified that he struck Kennedy in self-defense. He said Kennedy struck him when he demanded to know what Kennedy had said to Miss Stoddard.

William Tille of 1425 Franklin avenue testified that Kennedy appeared to be under the influence of liquor, but he did not see any blow struck at Decker.

After reading the transcript of the testimony, Assistant Circuit Attorney Bishop issued the information. Decker is at liberty under bond.

JAIL AS ICE CREAM CURE

AMESBURY, Mass., Aug. 13.—Four long, ice-creamless months in the local jail in the fate into which Edward Burke's thirst for that delicacy has led him. Edward broke into the refreshment parlors of William E. Carr and was helping himself to a liberal plate of chocolate ice cream when a watchman arrested him.

In court the charge of stealing one plate of ice cream was preferred against him, but, as this was not the first time Edward has indulged in similar raids, the Judge thought that four months in jail might cure him of his sweet tooth.

BOSTONIANS OFFENDED BY BOILED CABBAGE ODOR

People Living Near Restaurant Complain to Court and Case Is Compromised.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—There may be robust ones of stout sensibilities to whom the odors arising from the cooking of onions and cabbage and such things, bring sensations of pleasure. It is otherwise with certain aesthetic Bostonians who live or do business in the neighborhood of 20 Hawley street. Beans and codfish—aye, but onions and cabbage—nay, Frank Enger, who has a restaurant at that address, was in the Municipal Criminal Court on complaint of several neighbors who asserted that the activities of the kitchen perfumed the atmosphere all around, much to their discomfort.

Enger's attorney told Judge Creed that the normal neighbors suffered not in the least. But Judge Creed was inclined to think the odors might become a nuisance through their very monotony.

Seven Hurt in Street Car Shooting.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 13.—Four bystanders were shot seriously and three others less seriously wounded in a riot on East Second South street, when a special policeman waved an American flag in the face of an I. W. W. orator. Thousands gathered at the scene of the shooting and it was necessary to call out firemen to disperse the crowd.

Heat Is a Menace to Lives of Old Folks

People advancing in years should be very careful of their health during the hot months, as heat has a very enervating and weakening effect on them. One has only to look at the daily list of fatalities to elderly people reported by the papers to realize that these are the hardest months for them to overcome.

The easily digested foods should be eaten, and then only sparingly, and alcoholic beverages and food things should be avoided as much as possible. Exercise should be taken daily in the shade. Most important of all in the maintenance of health and vigor at this time is to avoid constipation, with its accompanying headaches and muscular and blood congestion. This is accomplished by the timely use of a gentle laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

It is the ideal laxative for elderly people, as it is mild, tastes pleasant and does not gripe. Best of all, it contains valuable tonic properties that build up and strengthen the system.

Elderly people should avoid strong physics, cathartics, purgatives, salts and pills, as they are a shock to the system. In the opinion of reliable people like Mrs. C. J. Ill.

Nichols, 2010 Emerson st., Berkeley, Cal., who esteems it a benefit to mankind, and Ida C. Milchsack, 210 N. Law st., Allentown, Pa., who declares that her stomach and bowels are now in perfect working order, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the right remedy to use. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. The latter size is bought steadily by those who already know its value.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 418 Washington st., Monticello, Ill.

U. S. SURGEON WRECKS HOME IN IMAGINARY DUEL

Son of Rear Admiral Osterhaus,
Drug-Crazed, Jabs Sword in Pictures and Walls.

SENT TO CITY HOSPITAL

Manager of Hermitage, Hearing
Noise, Finds Apartment Upset and Calls Ambulance.

Dr. Karl Osterhaus, 32 years old, son of Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, retired, of the United States Navy, and himself assistant surgeon in the St. Louis Naval Recruiting Station, was placed in the city hospital observation ward at 3 a. m. Wednesday, after he had wrecked the furnishings of his bachelor apartment and of an adjoining room in the Hermitage, 448 Washington boulevard.

Crazed by cocaine, which he had used in trying to overcome the liquor habit, the pajama-clad physician charged about his room with drawn sword, slashing the curtains and punching holes in the plaster, while he shouted at the imaginary enemy with whom he was fighting a duel.

Strider Hulst, manager of the apartments, heard the noise shortly after 9 p. m., and, going to Dr. Osterhaus' room, found the wall torn open as high as the surgeon's arm could reach, while picture frames were scared and portieres were in ribbons.

Jerks Pictures Off Walls.
Hulst called Dr. Osterhaus' name sharply, and the surgeon, obedient as to military command, laid down his sword and returned to bed. When he was asleep, the manager left his room, believing he would sleep the rest of the night.

About midnight the surgeon was heard tramping about his room again. Just as the manager opened the door, Dr. Osterhaus hurried in heavy suit case through a window screen.

Entering the manager saw that Dr. Osterhaus had jerked the pictures from the wall, had torn the fixtures of his private bathroom loose, and had wrenched the steam radiator from its place. Hulst lectured him on his destructive ways, and when he seemed composed, left him again.

More than two hours afterward the third outbreak came. This time, the manager found the surgeon in the adjoining apartment of Prof. Clarence Stratton, a high school instructor, who is in Europe for the summer. Pictures were torn down, and one framed portrait was sticking in the glass of a window through which Dr. Osterhaus had tried to throw it.

Hulst then decided that it was not safe to let him remain unattended. He got the physician back to his own room and persuaded him to dress, telephoning meanwhile for an ambulance. While waiting for the ambulance, he walked the distracted man up and down in front of the house.

Been Drinking to Excess.
At the hospital after breakfast, Dr. Osterhaus said he remembered little of what he had done during the night. He said he had been drinking to excess since he came to St. Louis last April, and that lately, in the effort to overcome this habit, he had been driven to the dangerous expedient of using cocaine by hypodermic injections. He said he hoped his father would not hear of his trouble. Rear Admiral Osterhaus, who retired from active naval duty about a year ago, is now in Coburg, Germany. He is a graduate of Belleville, Ill., and was appointed to the navy from St. Louis just after the Civil War. His father, Dr. Osterhaus' grandfather, was Gen. Peter J. Osterhaus, a figure in the Civil War.

Dr. Osterhaus is six feet tall, slender, handsome and courtly of manner. He said he hoped to get out of the hospital soon, and that he believed he could overcome his habits. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia. He began probationary service in the surgical division of the navy last March. Had he successfully passed the first year's probation, he would have been in line for appointment as surgeon, with the rank of Lieutenant. He fears his present trouble will cost him his place in the service.

FORMER WIDOW SUES FOR SHARE IN AN ESTATE

Mrs. Helen Graham Was Wife of C. W. Jones, Who Inherited
From Father, H. T. Jones.

A suit to get a share of the estate of the late Henry T. Jones, who was vice president of the More-Jones Brass & Metal Co., was filed in the Circuit Court, Tuesday, by Mrs. Helen Graham. The plaintiff was the widow of Jones' son, Charles W. Jones, who died in Arizona, in 1911, shortly after the death of his father. She married again recently and is now the wife of Roy Graham of Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Graham sues as the widow of Charles Jones.

By the terms of the father's will the son's interest in the property, amounting to about one-half of the estate, it is said, was left in trust. The present suit involves $10,000 worth of personal property which Mrs. Graham asserts should be turned over to her, according to her counsel, Lee W. Grant.

The defendants are Edward A. Moss and John A. Strauch, executors of the will, who are asked to make accounting to Mrs. Graham. Attorney Grant said there may be another suit for Charles Jones' interest in his father's realty. The estate is valued at about $300,000.

The New Traffic Signals

NEW SIGNAL CODE GIVES TRAFFIC MEN THE 'DERRICK ARM'

Movements in Directing Drivers of Vehicles Makes Policemen
Stiff and Sore.

'LIKE A JUMPING-JACK'

Member of Squad Tells of Difficulty in Executing Signals at Busy Corners.

After the first full day spent in executing the new traffic signal code—elevating both arms at right angles with the body to indicate the route in which vehicles are to move—members of the police traffic squad returned to their homes, Tuesday evening, suffering from what some of them termed "derrick-arm."

Their arms were so stiff and sore from the long, continuous calisthenic exercise that it pained them to lift their food from the supper table. Large quantities of alcohol (externally) were used to relieve soreness. Much complaint was made Wednesday about the new signal system.

Reporter Watches Signals.
A Post-Dispatch reporter spent Tuesday afternoon observing the operation of the new plan, and it was evident that it was a strain on the patrolmen. As the end of the day's work approached the arms of the policeman seemed to work with difficulty, as though the mechanism that propelled them was running short of motive power. At noon the arms were moving gracefully and naturally, but toward evening they assumed a sort of mechanical movement.

It was the new movement that led several patrolmen to remark that they were getting "derrick-arm." Their arms moved like derricks, they said. In the hour between 1:30 and 2:30 p. m., while the traffic patrolman at Broadway and Olive street elevated his arms 412 times. That averaged about seven times a minute, or once every 8 seconds. As the policeman put in an eight-hour day, that means, at a rough estimate, he raised his arms and lowered them more than 2000 times in the course of his day's work.

This physical strain is of interest to physical culture experts.

Opinion by an Expert.
Prof. A. E. Kindervater, supervisor of calisthenics in the public schools and former instructor at the St. Louis Turn-verein, said the traffic squad men are subjected to a great strain by the new signal code. They may become accustomed to it in time, he said, but until they do they will suffer as much as if they had rheumatism.

Twenty-five minutes of calisthenics in a stretch is considered the limit by active turners, he said, but he qualified that statement by adding that turners exercise all their muscles in the exercises. He said the exercise indulged in by the traffic men under the new system will result in the over-development of the muscles which control their arms and will be of no benefit to the rest of their muscular organization.

Causes Much Confusion.
The patrolmen say the new system causes much confusion to the drivers of vehicles. Under the old code the patrolman merely waved his hand in the direction in which the traffic was to move and the plan was so simple that no one could misunderstand it. Under the new system, they say, it is hard to regulate traffic, because those drivers wishing to turn a corner do not correctly interpret the signal given.

It is impossible properly to direct the vehicles, the men say, when a driver coming west, wishing to turn north, and another coming east, and wishing to turn south, reach the corner at the same time. Under the old system, they say, a few short and swift movements of the hand directed both vehicles almost simultaneously, but under the new plan two distinct and laborious motions have to be executed.

Drivers Greet it as a Joke.
The new system seemed to be regarded as a joke by a majority of the drivers who traversed Broadway between Washington avenue and Chestnut street. Very few understood the signal or needed it and many laughingly imitated the patrolmen in their wild efforts to operate and teach at the same time. "I feel like a jumping-jack," said one patrolman in discouragement, after he had succeeded finally in relieving a serious congestion at his corner. "There isn't a man on the squad who likes this new system. It makes us look like a lot of mannikins and it is not a bit up-to-date. Why, if they keep it up they will need two men at every busy corner. One man cannot handle it. Vehicle drivers will never become accustomed to the system and it will be virtually useless."

That seemed to be the opinion of all the patrolmen interviewed by the reporter. Not one of them has taken kindly to the new code.

None of them cared to have his name used in discussing the new code, for the obvious reason that it was worked out after a conference of the Police Board.

GIRL LIKES AUTO, ADMIRER STEALS ONE, IS CAPTURED

Miss Catherine Gibson, Webster
Groves Station Agent, Did Not Know of Theft.

Long country automobile rides enjoyed by Miss Catherine Gibson, Frisco station agent at Webster Groves, led to the discovery that her sweetheart, Rudolph Schroeder, also of Webster Groves, was a thief. He was arrested and Wednesday confessed that he had stolen an auto. He also admitted he had a prison record which he said he had concealed from Miss Gibson.

On the night of Aug. 8 an automobile belonging to Dr. E. T. Urban of 1438

South Grand avenue was stolen from the private garage behind his home. A description of the car and its license number was telephoned to St. Louis County.

The day following the theft Schroeder drove to the 14-mile house on Manchester road and purchased a drink. The proprietor, William Grupp, recognized the car as one the county officers had been inquiring about and whispered his suspicions to Frank Lettler, a brewery drummer, of 3862 Garfield avenue.

When Schroeder departed, Lettler got into his own machine and chased the suspect four miles, overtook him and compelled him to return to the roadhouse. Schroeder escaped by jumping through a window when his captors were awaiting the arrival of a Constable and fleeing in the machine.

News of the chase and capture was telephoned to St. Louis and since then detectives have been watching Schroeder's home on Forest avenue. He was arrested Tuesday night when he drove up to the house in the stolen machine.

Schroeder told the police he greatly admired Miss Gibson, who lives with her parents at 715 Selma avenue in Webster Groves. He said he took her riding in a borrowed machine and that she enjoyed herself so much that he decided to steal one, but did not tell her how he had come into possession of it.

Although only 25 years old Schroeder has served terms in the penitentiary, reform school and workhouse for larceny. He spent 180 days in the workhouse for robbing telephone slot boxes.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.
April 10, 1907. JOSEPH PULITZER.

THE FAMILY HIVE AT JEFFERSON CITY.

What may be called the family corner in State jobs is a disgusting spectacle of official cheapness, involving necessarily a sacrifice of public welfare to private well-being, and a matter of shame to Missouri.

The Post-Dispatch has been at pains to show the extent to which the families of officials feed on the payrolls at Jefferson City. Gov. Major's 15-year-old son draws $40 a month from the Insurance Department. One of the Governor's brothers is a deputy hotel inspector at $1200 a year. Practically the entire family of Auditor Gordon, including his wife, hold jobs. Secretary of State Roach has one of his family drawing $1800 and his sister-in-law drawing $1200 a year. The hotel inspector has his wife as a deputy, drawing $900 a year. Beer Inspector Mosby has his son drawing $600 a year as a special messenger. The Warehouse Commissioner's daughter receives $1500 as clerk. The Bradley family (Mr. Bradley is secretary of the State Public Utilities Commission) has four jobs ranging from $3600 to $1500. Warden McClung has a son drawing $100 a month as commissary. Numerous legislators have members of their families on the payroll. In short, Jefferson City is a family hive and Missouri is run in the interest of a petty class whose amazing greed for small jobs is stronger than considerations of propriety.

What is there to expect in the way of administration from officials to whom a small salary is more important than public respect or the public interest?

If a traffic policeman is checking the vehicles northward bound on Broadway, with his upraised left hand, and is giving the Olive street jam the right of way by describing a semicircle with his right hand, how will he salute a Police Commissioner passing in a six-cylinder automobile?

SPANKING DROMGOOLE'S BOY.

Spanking Mr. Dromgoole's 10-year-old boy is evidently one of the most perilous of outdoor or indoor sports. Some conception of its perils may be gained from the following dispatch from Slaughter, La., a town, by the way, which seems to have been aptly named:

SLAUGHTER, La., Aug. 13.—Emmett Williams today was killed by O. M. Dromgoole because he spanked Dromgoole's 10-year-old boy.

Spanking Dromgoole's boy, during the open season, may attract those big game hunters and heroes who have exhausted the thrills of the jungle. Lind's mission to Mexico seems tame by contrast. As a substitute for a Mexican war, spanking Dromgoole's boy should satisfy any jingo.

Furthermore, the boy probably needs it, and to spank him doubtless amounts to a high civic duty, a patriotic obligation worthy of a Hobson or a Roosevelt. The town would likely issue a license to any benefactor who would thus devote himself to the public weal. Perhaps there is a bounty on it. Manifestly there's a Carnegie medal in it and a memorial reputation.

As to the propriety of spanking a boy on general principles there can be no question. Gladstone publicly declared for it when the matter was in direct issue before all Britain. Butler, the great poet, and most of the considerable authorities sanctioned it. In fact, there is a pretty general agreement that other people's boys ought to be spanked. It is apparent, also, that spanking is a custom too often honored in the breach rather than in the observance by parents and guardians, and that unless some outsider or snooper volunteers it a boy will go unspanked.

Many persons will admire and sympathize with the deceased at Slaughter, La. There will not be many who will emulate him. For our part we are not moved either by sheer love of adventure or reckless concern for the public weal to take up the task where the deceased left off. There is no man whose friendship we regard more desirable than that of the father of the Dromgoole boy and we tender him our most respectful consideration.

Boss Murphy of Tammany Hall, interviewed some weeks ago, predicted Gov. Sulzer would be in the Progressive party within a year, and said: "I'll stake 'em to him, f. o. b." It now looks as if he had undertaken to guarantee delivery.

GALS AND GALLUSES.

List to the last cry of Paris fashions—the gals are wearing galluses! Or shall we say, the girls are wearing grilles?

Evidently nothing could lend a more convincing touch of verisimilitude to emancipated femininity. The gallus is the next thing to full-fledged manhood. There can no longer be any question of who wears the sign of authority. We no longer perceive womanhood standing helpless before great problems with her hands on her hips. Instead, hitching up her suspenders, she can tackle anything.

The aspect of Justice and Liberty in their shirt sleeves and with their thumbs inserted in their galluses gives us pause. We tremble at the thought of man one day host with his own petard, so to speak, bent over the knee of the superior being and thrashed with her suspenders.

THE CASE OF JAUMSEN.

A dispatch from Boston states that Ernest Jaumsen, a Russian journalist, has been deported as "highly undesirable and unquestionably inimical to the best interests of the United States."

The sole offense for which Jaumsen suffers deportation, according to the dispatch, is that he admits "having escaped from Siberia, where he was serving a five-year term for writing in favor of a Democratic form of government in Russia."

Is writing in favor of a Democratic form of government in Russia or elsewhere a crime in America? Is revolt against despotism an offense in the great republic founded as a refuge for the oppressed of all nations? Is a supporter of Democracy, an opponent of tyranny "highly undesirable" for American citizenship and "unquestionably inimical to the interests of the United States"?

Are we so bound to Russia by treaty that we must send back to the gallows, the prison and the lash the political refugees who seek asylum on our shores?

Are our deportation laws to serve the ends of the despotic governments of the old world?

Under the ruling in the Jaumsen case Carl Schurz and his compatriots, who fled from German prisons and who enriched the United States with the best type of manhood, would have been deported.

Under rulings of this kind Hugo Mazzini, Kosuth, Kropotkin and a long line of distinguished men, who made large contributions to human progress, would have been debarred from refuge in England and America.

Is it possible that under a Democratic administration—a Wilson and a Bryan—we deny the right of political dissent, insurgency or revolution and close our shores to those who assert them?

Secretary Redfield should investigate the action of the immigration officers at Boston and see whether American principles are being violated in the enforcement of deportation laws.

President Wilson might well spare time from tariff revision, currency reform and the Mexican problem to enforce in his own administration the principles of American liberty of which he is so eloquent an exponent.

The Mad Mullah has taken the field again, with 2000 men. The sustained anger of this tribesman passes understanding.

NO TOWNS OUT THERE.

St. Louis real estate men return from a visit to Western Canada with strange stories about young cities in that region which appear to have been built to plan, like a house, or a factory, or a world's fair. Telling such stories in any big American city, they must feel some doubt of being believed.

Our cities, like Topsy, in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," were never planned; they "just grew." Latterly some of them have been trying to correct a few of the worst defects due to the Topsy system of city building.

In the new cities of the Canadian Northwest, they tell us, there are no grade crossings; all streets run under the railroads, on long inclines, and the railroads foot the bills. The 3-cent street car fare is universal—and the cities own the car lines. Electric current costs about one-third as much as in Missouri cities—and the cities as a rule own the electric light and power plants. Most of those amazing young cities get the bulk of their revenue from a land increment tax; they proceed on the assumption that the community, which makes increased values in unused land, is entitled to take a large part of the increase for community uses. They levy a very light tax on buildings; they say they don't wish to make any citizen pay a fine for being progressive.

Travel is a great educator—if one travels in a land where new ideas are in vogue.

Govs. Major and Hodges, if in need of pointers on how to run a steam roller on Missouri's good roads days, might consult Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, Washington, D. C.

NOT AN ANTIQUE HULK.

The report of the special Charter Committee to the Central Civic Council, representing a number of civic organizations, has one notable contradiction. It recommends "a simple, Democratic and responsive form of government, which can easily be controlled by the voters as a whole."

But it urges "one house of legislation composed of representatives from comparatively small voting districts."

Condemning the commission form of government, which is ideal because a city is nothing more than a municipal corporation organized to do the common work and take care of the general interests of the community, it condemns also one legislative house elected at large for the singular reason that "it tends to their selection by small but powerful groups of men who do not represent the diverse interest of the city."

Since the Constitution requires at least one legislative house elected at large, the committee recommends the continuation of the present halting and antiquated two-house system, founded on the ancient delusion that a modern city is a political state.

With the present two-house system or with the one house composed of representatives from small voting districts, the city government cannot be controlled by the voters as a whole. The legislature will be subject to the will of a majority of representatives elected by majorities in the districts.

St. Louis has been cursed by the ward system. Each ward has been a petty political division of the city ruled by a party satrap. The city has always been hampered by the impossibility of controlling the wards. When the people have been aroused we have been able to get good Councils, but rarely able to get good Houses of Delegates, and in these rare cases only through city conventions whipped or frightened into submission to the popular demand.

Bad Councils have been elected through public neglect when the nominating power was in the hands of ward bosses. We are now in better position to control a one-house legislature, elected at large, because we have the direct primary. The power of the political bosses in a vote of the whole city is weakened. It can be broken. The artificial ward system helps to keep party bosses in power.

The interests of the city are common, not diverse. Diverse interests are political, local, personal and special. We want to concentrate public attention and public power on the common interests—public utilities, streets, sewers, parks, playgrounds, boulevards, schools, public buildings, the public welfare in its broadest sense.

The broader the civic spirit the better. The more it works as a whole through central control of the government for the common good of the community the larger the scope of the work and the greater the chance of efficiency.

Since St. Louis cannot get a board of directors of its best men, let us have the next most efficient form, an elective Mayor and Comptroller and a single legislative house elected at large with all other offices appointive.

Let us empower this government through the charter to build, purchase and operate public utilities, to raise money by bonds and district assessments for parks, playgrounds and boulevards and to do all the work necessary to meet the social, industrial, commercial and artistic needs of the city. Let us give them full power with responsibility.

Let us have a modern, efficient city government, organized for work, not an antique hulk.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Chautauqua Becoming Modern.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Will you kindly publish this in answer to the letter in your paper of last Friday, which the author did not sign, but simply subscribed as "A Cottage Owner."

It seems strange that in this twentieth century some people do not recognize that we are in an age of progress and evolution, and the old-fashioned camp meetings of ante bellum days are a thing of the past, and that all religions acknowledge modern ways and ideas, and that we no longer desire to live like our Indian predecessors, in tents, but rather accept present civilization and dwell in cottages; but there is nothing in the rules of Chautauqua to prevent this disgruntled individual selling his cottage and living in a tent if he wants to.

I have for some years lived as near as anyone at the Chautauqua to the place where "the tired commuter is assailed" in the way mentioned in this cottage owner's letter, and can hear and see everything that goes on there, and I deny that "one is bothered, annoyed, tortured" by "ragtime music going on at the platform until 12 o'clock at night;" nor have I seen any Oriental dances going on there, and yet I am not blind.

The best proof that Chautauqua is not becoming so worldly as this cottage of ancient times would have us believe is that, as he says in his letter, no games, not even the "innocent" game of croquet, which seems to be so near the heart of our friend, is allowed to go on, on Sundays. Now, up to the present day, as to automobiles, hook, hook and chain do not prevent the worshippers from hearing the sermons any more than the old-fashioned "whoa" and "git up" that our antiquated friend used to listen to.

Don't you think, dear "cottage owner," that it is strange that the Rev. Dr. Williamson (and this his second year) should consent to conduct a Bible conference at a place where the people are so worldly and that he should stay and live a week with such sinners, and yet he must, during that time, have heard that awful ragtime and seen those Oriental dances.

Two Great Problems Solved.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
There is a glimmer of a solution of the dog-scurry problem. The consumption of dog meat for human food is increasing in Germany. Indians have long found it an excellent food. If meat is to be eaten, why let ignorance and prejudice stand in the way? Besides, is not this an easy road to cheap meat?

CHILE CON CARNE.

A Lady's Views of Street Car Smokers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I believe that any innately refined man would not force his fellow passengers to endure the discomfort of smoke, odor and ashes from his cigar, pipe or cigarette. I have seen a man put in his pocket a match with a will pipe in his pocket, the stench was so nauseating. Fifty-cent cigars are not so bad, except for the ashes; but then everybody can't afford 50-cent cigars. I have seen a woman passenger have a hole burned in a pretty summer frock by the burning ash of a cigar. I have seen a child cry from the car crying from tobacco blown in its eyes from a cigarette in the "makin'." In fact, the discomforts suffered from the smoke hog are too innumerable to mention. If a woman chewed gum on the car incessantly, she would be an object of severe criticism. Yet this habit can only be criticized from an aesthetic standpoint and in no physical sense as an annoyance to fellow passengers. The extent to which the tobacco smoking is carried is unbelievable, and it does seem to me that the manhood of our country should awake to the almost criminal selfishness of the filthy and annoying habit. ORTIA.

Why Not Sprinkle the Coal Dust?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Kindly publish the following in your "Letter Column" and oblige one of your subscribers. The Polar Wave Ice plant at Broadway and La Salle street have recently made a change in the boilers which requires what is known as pest coal and is very fine. This plant uses from ten to twelve (three-horse) loads daily, which are hauled there by their own teams. Every day, including Sundays, they receive these loads of coal dust.

None of this coal or dust is ever vented in the least, and the result is that great clouds arise, which are so dense that you cannot see in its path. When the wind is blowing from the south the residents on La Salle street and passersby are littered with this dust, as where it is unloaded is only about 200 feet from the street. Now, something ought to be done to abate this nuisance without delay, as it is a detriment to health.

THE PRINCIPAL SUFFERERS.

Mashers Denounced.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Would like to call your attention to the action of some of the men who make it their business to loaf around the streets of our city. It's really getting so that a respectable woman can hardly walk along the south side of Washington avenue between Broadway and Sixth street without being annoyed and often followed by the men who make it their business to loaf there during the busy part of the day, especially the noon hour. It's really too bad that women who go along minding their own business have to endure the insults of these mashers. I wonder where the police are that they allow this to continue. It's about time that something was done, as it's certainly a disgrace to our city.

THREE GRAINS OF CORN.

(Corn is expected to reach a record price this Fall. It is already a ton wheat, and is still going up.—News.)

GIVE me three grains of corn, mother,
And I will make my love
A necklace such as women folk
Are all enamored of;
Each grain a precious jewel
As lustrous as the morn
When the sun comes singing up the sky—
Give me three grains of corn.

GIVE me three grains of corn, mother,
And I will make them one
With links of gold as beautiful
As ever gold was spun;
A circlet set with jewels
The like of which adorn
The diadems of royalty—
Give me three grains of corn.

ROADS AND ROADHOUSES.

Dear Just a Minute: Your suggestion that Gov. Major could get everybody out by including roadhouses in his proclamation is the most sensible thing I have seen this summer. Roadhouses are inseparably associated with roads, and to omit all mention of them in an appeal is absurd. I cannot imagine a more effective and thrilling spectacle than the sight of a car crying from tobacco blown in its eyes from a cigarette in the "makin'." In fact, the discomforts suffered from the smoke hog are too innumerable to mention. If a woman chewed gum on the car incessantly, she would be an object of severe criticism. Yet this habit can only be criticized from an aesthetic standpoint and in no physical sense as an annoyance to fellow passengers. The extent to which the tobacco smoking is carried is unbelievable, and it does seem to me that the manhood of our country should awake to the almost criminal selfishness of the filthy and annoying habit. ORTIA.

Now, Just a Minute, don't insist; I ask the reason why? Of some sage ornithologist? They know no more than I. You I consult because I note Your wit is keen and ready. But, if you say I've got your goat, I'll put it up to Teddy.

JOSEPH FLYNN.

THE BUSIEST FIRM IN TOWN.

From the New York World.
At the time Mr. Sulzer was nominated and elected Governor his private integrity had not been questioned. He was supposed to be poor and honest. There were no rumors of financial irregularities until he had quarreled with Murphy. When he stood in the way of the boss and his contracts, exposure was swift and certain, and would be equally swift and certain in the case of any other man of independence who was vulnerable. It is now apparent that Tammany nominates and elects nobody to office who is not vulnerable.

The Sulzer scandal ought to drive Mr. Sulzer from the governorship, but it ought also to destroy Tammany Hall. It ought to make impossible the election of any Tammany candidate, no matter what his reputation may be. If Tammany Hall is able to prove that William Sulzer is corrupt how can the people of New York ever trust anybody who is identified with Tammany Hall? They must know that for every Sulzer in the organization there are a thousand who are worse. They must realize now that "loyalty to the organization" is only a polite name for a system of political blackmail which rules by terrorism.

Young Bryan's Job.

From the Boston Advertiser.
It seems that Mr. Bryan has a son in the diplomatic service. Why has this not become known before?

Robert Edison believes in all the modern improvements, including extensive advertising, and proves it by the following:

"When a duck lays an egg she just waddles off as if nothing had happened."

"When a hen lays an egg there's a whole of a noise."

"The hen advertises. Hence the demand for hens' eggs instead of ducks' eggs."—September Young's Magazine.

THE UNPARDONABLE IN POLITICS.

Cates: Do you think Gov. Sulzer did anything very bad?
Clemens: Yes. He got caught.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

BEAUTY CULTURE.

W. L.—Orange flower cream (will not cause hair growth): Oil of sweet almond, 4 oz.; white wax, 8 drams; spermaceti, 8 drams; borax, 3 drams; glycerin, 1 lb.; orange flower water, 1 oz.; oil of neroli, 15 drops; oil of petit grain, 15 drops. Melt the first three ingredients and add glycerin to the orange flower water and dissolve the borax in the mixture; then pour it slowly into the blended fat, stirring continuously.

S. S. S.—Dandruff may be caused by impure circulation. Daily massage will do much to benefit this. A good tonic (crude petroleum will do), and do not use the hair oil more than once a month. To massage, begin at the back of the neck and with the tips of the fingers rub the scalp up the back of the head to the forehead, then from side, until the scalp is in a glow. In cases where the head is covered with tight dandruff, a hairbrush may be used. Use pure coal oil. It does not injure the hair in the least, but it opens the dead pores, cleans the scalp and is easily washed out with borax water. Rub the scalp and hair perfectly clean. The oil is rubbed into the scalp with the fingers, and the dandruff is washed out with a fine comb before the hair is washed. It is easier to wash out all out of the hair than it is to remove vaseline.

EFFECTS OF TOBACCO.

MRS. S. NUFF.—Snuff is tobacco. The effects of tobacco upon the animal system have been critically studied by experimenting with mice, time upon animals. This alkaloid is one of the most powerful of nerve poisons, producing tetanic convulsions, followed by paralysis and death through failure of respiration. The cerebrum is little affected, and the pulse rate, while first lessened, is afterward quickened. The pupils are contracted. In man, tobacco taken in sufficient quantity to show poisonous effects produces giddiness, dizziness and an indescribable feeling of sinking and misery, followed shortly by intense nausea, severe and long-continued vomiting, and great relaxation and feebleness of the muscular system. The skin becomes pale and moist and the pulse exceedingly feeble. More or less of these effects may persist for a day and more after the poisoning. They are familiarly seen in young lads when first beginning to smoke. As to poisonous dose, there is none, for not only do different persons vary in their susceptibility to tobacco, but habit also makes an enormous difference in the effect following a given dose. That it is well known, very large quantities of tobacco can be smoked or chewed without the development of any of the above-mentioned poisoning. In sufficient dose, tobacco proves a dangerous and even fatal poison. The symptoms are, in general, an intensification of those just described—namely, intense nausea and vomiting, faintness, muscular debility, cardiac failure and general prostration. Often, there are violent pains in the abdomen, cramps, convulsions and profuse purging. An injection of 30 grains of tobacco has several times killed, and death may occur in a place within an hour from the time of receiving the poison. Extensive external applications of tobacco may cause poisoning, and even death. There is no antidote, and in cases of acute poisoning, such as occur from the use of tobacco, should be evacuated by appropriate means and restorative agents employed, such as alcoholics, ammonia, the application of heat, friction and artificial respiration. Chronic poisoning by tobacco, such as occurs from undue indulgence in the weed as a luxury, shows itself in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, nervousness, especially in the morning, dry foul tongue, constipation, nervousness, as evinced by a general physical and mental restlessness, with undue susceptibility to all forms of disease, and by tremulousness of the muscles and palpitation or irregular action of the heart. In extreme cases, there is inflammation of the throat and tonsils is extremely common. Deeper evils, such as paralysis, mental decline and loss of sight from wasting away of the optic nerves, have been charged to excessive use of tobacco; but who can believe that the enormous number of persons who indulge heavily in the weed, and the comparatively rare occurrence of such afflictions, in question, where there is not some other obvious and valid cause for the same, the claim that tobacco is to blame must be received with caution. Moderate use of tobacco by persons with whom it "agrees" does not produce obviously injurious effects.

LAW POINTS.

A. W.—Report to State Food Officer, room 404 or 108 Old City Hall, adulterated or misrepresented, so as to mislead buyers. "Acid" vinegar is not pure.

LOUISE.—The deed of trust securing the note which expired is good as long as the note is in force. The note is good for 10 years after expiration and before that (10 years) something is paid off it reverts the same in years longer, from date of such payment.

JEKYLL.—The furniture bought after marriage by wife in her name, with money saved from her earnings, would be his and he could mortgage it without her signature; if bought with her money, earned by her, it would be his and he could mortgage it without her signature; if bought with her money, earned by her, it would be his and he could mortgage it without her signature.

W. F.—If a child under 14 may be employed in any workshop. Girl of 13 may be employed in any store in which the same persons are employed. Child over 14 may play in places of amusement. Boy of 14 may be employed as errand boy. Any working children between 14 and 18 require an age certificate and are permitted to work nine hours a day, from 7 o'clock a. m. to 7 o'clock p. m. See Factory Inspector, Fullerton Building, Seventh Street.

MISCELLANEOUS.

M. D. S.—See scenario addresses at this office.

W. R. G.—Poor man's bank. Eighth and Chestnut streets. That per cent. notes of applicants must be indorsed by two employed people.

Condition of the cotton crop as of Aug. 25, 1913, was 74.8 per cent. By States: North Carolina 75, South Carolina 75, Georgia 76, Florida 75, Alabama 75, Mississippi 76, Louisiana 74, Texas 76, Arkansas 77, Tennessee 74, Oklahoma 84.

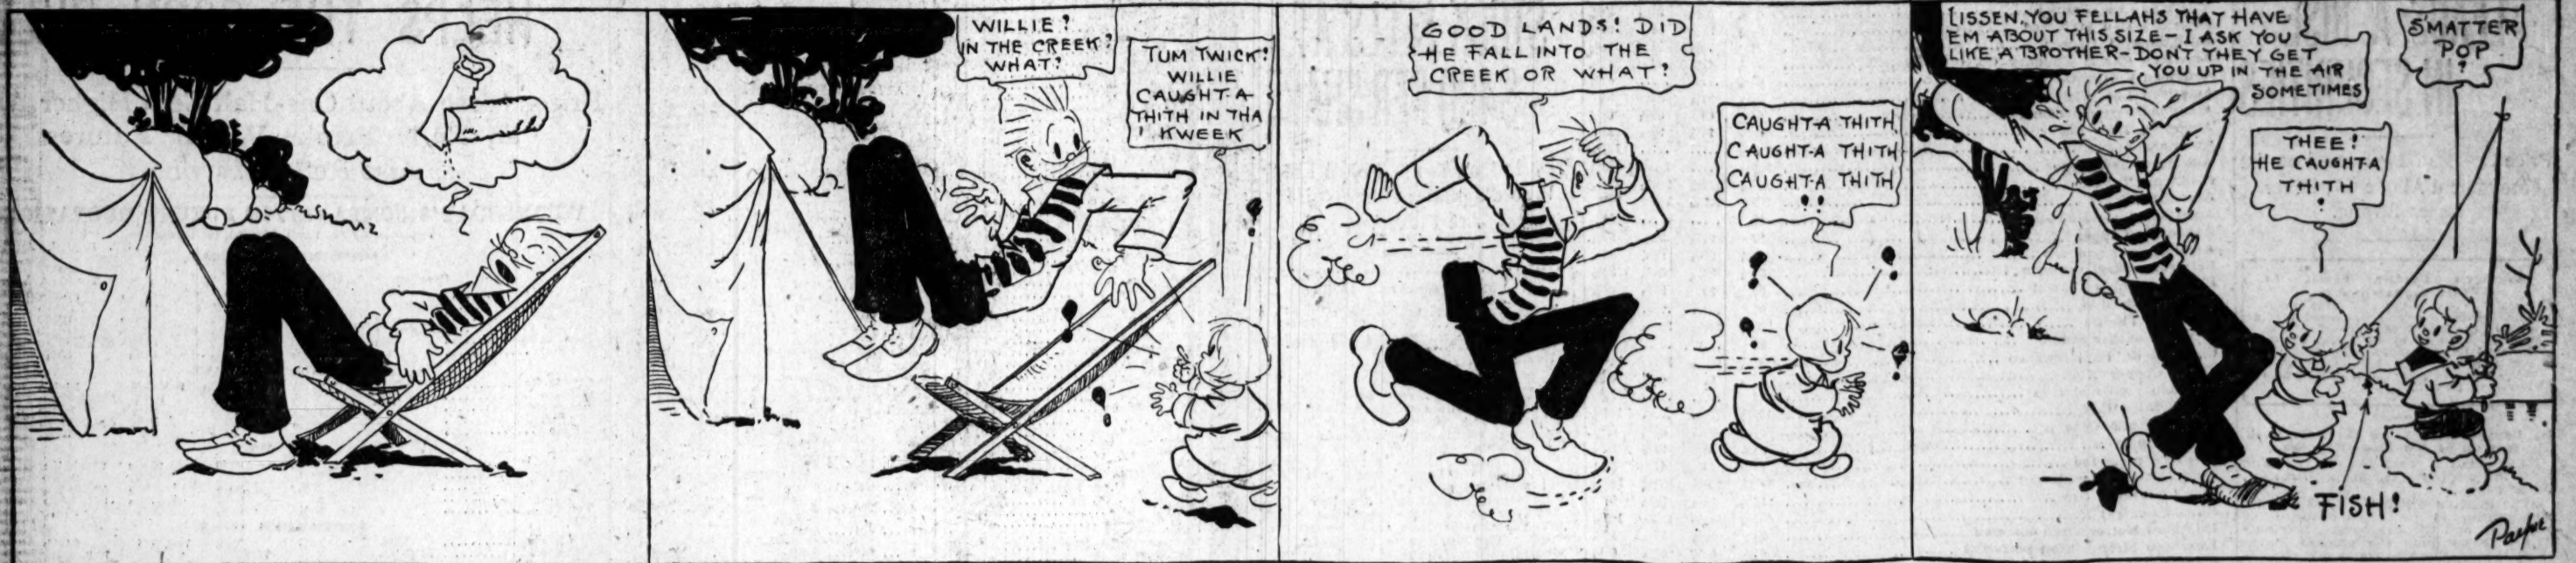

WAHNER.—The Government prescribes perfect care for sprains—never less than a month; the longer the better. Good results also from local applications. The various lotions which cool the parts, the strappings which cool the tension of the blood vessels, the tepid fomentations which accelerate the circulation in the engorged capillaries, the liniments of various composition, the salicylates, the iodine, the sedative preparations of aconite, the alterative frictions of iodine—all these are recommended and resorted to by one or another. Government prefers counter-irritants, for the simple reason, among many others, that they tend to break the promissory of their action by the formation of the bony deposits. The famous "oil of sweet almond" is a blistering agent of cantharides, in the form of ointment or liniment, and to the people of New York ever trust anybody who is identified with Tammany Hall? They must know that for every Sulzer in the organization there are a thousand who are worse. They must realize now that "loyalty to the organization" is only a polite name for a system of political blackmail which rules by terrorism.

The bold bad Indians didn't scalp them
after all.

MRS. JARR took hold of his little daughter's hand with his left, his right arm being hooked around the family picnic basket. Mrs. Jarr had the child by the other hand, while Master Willie Jarr, being fleet of foot, cut out the pace a few yards ahead of the rest of the fleeing family.

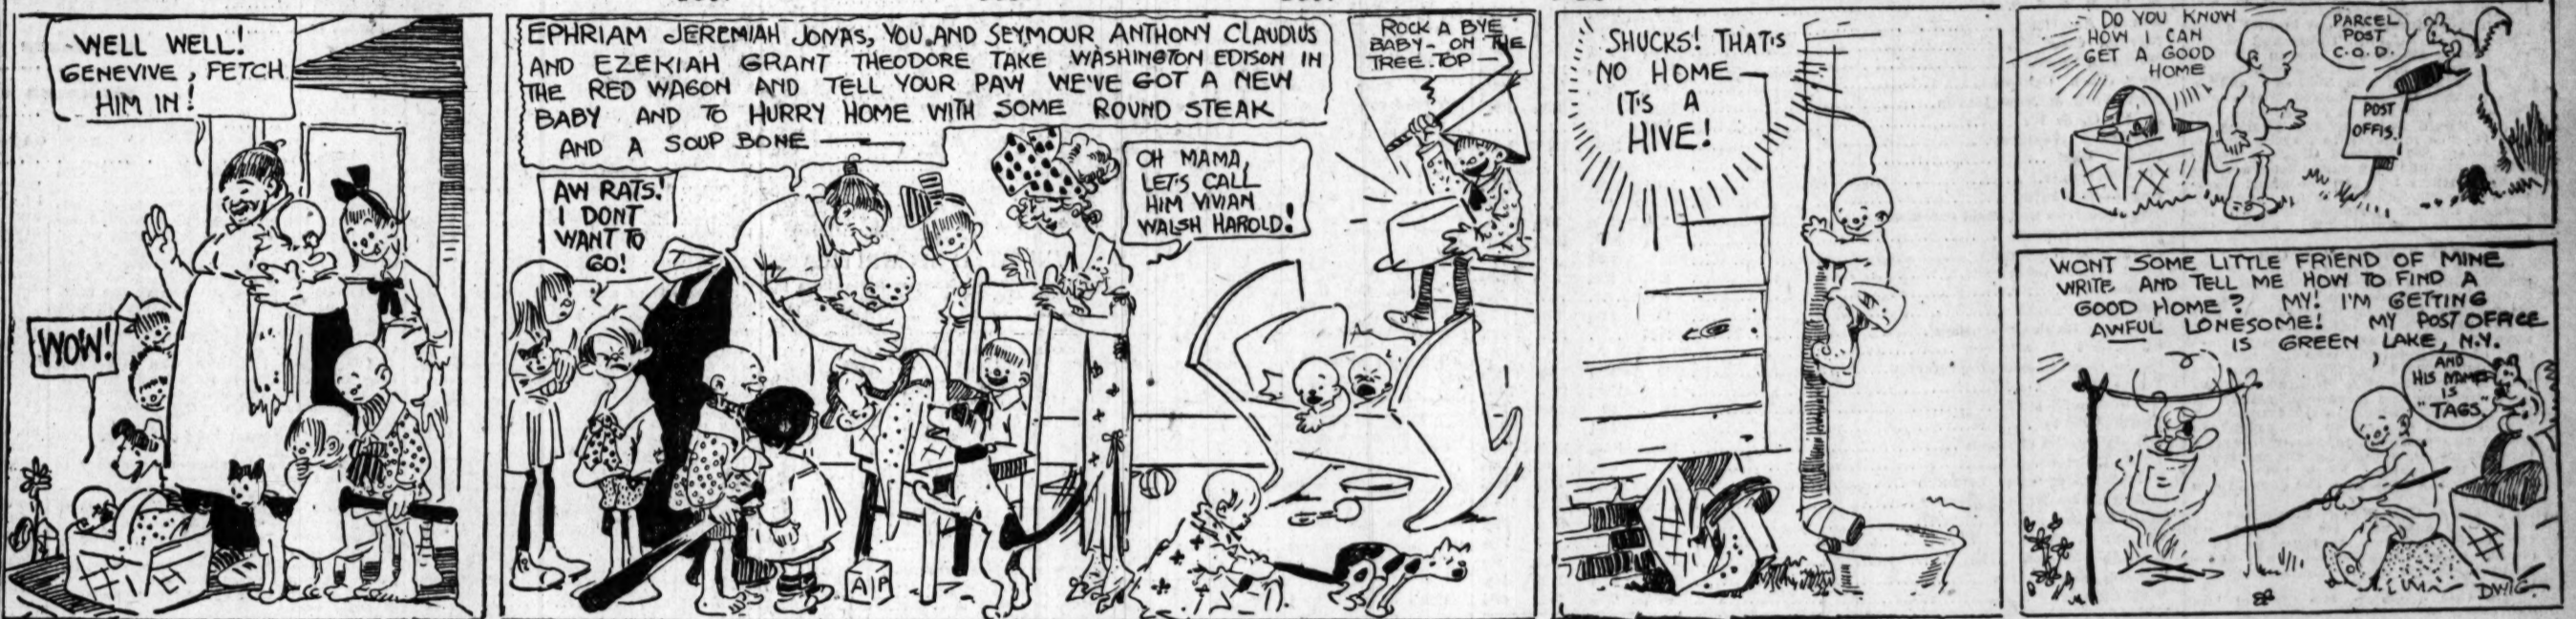

"In this wise they broke all records for family picnic party half-mile dashes. Finally, out of the woods and on a level stretch of ground, they paused panting.

"Was it Indians and trappers, maw? Was it savages and scouts, pop?" asked the boy, the first to recover sufficient breath to articulate. "I seen the man come out of the hut and I heard the guns in the woods. Who was the ladies, pop? Was the Indians after them, maw?"

"Don't recall the dreadful scene to me!" panted Mrs. Jarr. "It was another one of those awful mysterious East Side tragedies of which we read in the papers every day. I never used to pay any attention to them when I read them. I didn't believe them possible. But, oh, to think my little children should witness such dreadful scenes!"

Stories St. Louisans Tell

RARE FORETHOUGHT.

A. H. MANSFIELD, claims attorney of the Missouri Pacific, tells of a wreck, occurring on another road, in which two men, near neighbors, were slightly injured. One settled his claim against the railroad for $25, and he was much chagrined, a little later, to learn that his neighbor had collected $200.

"How is that?" he demanded of his friend. "You were no worse hurt than I was, and all I could get was $25."

"That was all I got, too," said the fortunate one. "The rest was for my wife. I had the presence of mind to kick her in the face when the car turned over."

Best Looks.

JOSEPH G. CANNON, former Speaker of the House and a visitor at Washington now, was standing on the sidewalk on Pennsylvania avenue recently talking with a friend, when an elderly, quick-speaking man approached.

"Excuse me," said the elderly man, "but I've been watching you and wondered if I'd ever seen you before."

Mr. Cannon smiled in answer.

"Do you know," continued the elderly man, "I thought at first you were 'Uncle Joe' Cannon."

"They say that 'Uncle Joe' and Shelby Cullom both look like me," responded the ex-speaker.

"Well, I don't know about that," said the elderly man, "but I'll say this for you—you're a darn sight better looking than either of them."

Nature's Providence.

UGLIELMO MARCONI, the inventor of wireless telegraphy, once lost considerable flesh in a motor accident. A reporter remarked that Mr. Marconi was thinner than when he last saw him.

"Yes," replied the inventor, "I am not like the Italian admiral, you see. Libertini had won many battles and great renown. Attending a ball one evening, he was presented to two charming American women. After the admiral had passed on one of the women remarked to the other:

"How frightfully fat the Admiral is growing. I think it is so unbecoming to a man, don't you?"

"Yes," replied the other woman thoughtfully, "as a rule I do. But in this case it seems fortunate. Otherwise he wouldn't be able to wear all his medals."

—Chicago Record Herald.

Rhymes of Railroad.

HIS oft-quoted Finnigan has a rival in Pat Donohue, an Ohio freight conductor whose train had a breakdown recently. After the accident he sent this message to Train Dispatcher Straight:

Two-twenty-two has a busted flue.
What will I do? Donohue.

This awakened the slumbering muse in the telegraph office, and the reply ran:

Wait. Two-twenty-eight will take your freight. Dispatcher Straight.

Ignoring Her Contract.

A WOMAN promises to share a man's joys and sorrows.

"She does, when she marries him."

"And yet she remains perfectly tranquil when the home team loses."

Fast Old New York.

"SO you're back from New York, Si?"

"Yes, an' tired out."

"Fast town, eh?"

"Fast ain't no name for it. I saw banks open all night 't' commodate them as lose their money early in th' evenin', I s'pose; an' lawyers' offices open at 9 o'clock in th' mornin'—t' fix up them as are in a hurry for a divorce an' can't wait till daylight; an' what else d' you think?"

"What else? Well, I wouldn't be s'prised t' hear of anything."

"An' I saw a fun'ral goin' rickety split, with an automobile hearse leadin' th' percession an' settin' the pace!"

"Wall, Si, I s'pose they have t' git th' dead ones out o' the way in a hurry t' give th' live ones room, eh?"—Judge.

INDIA TEA

Iced or Hot
A Luxury Within Reach of All

ONE TEASPOONFUL MAKES TWO CUPS.

Eat This Food During Summer

Be careful what you eat during hot weather. What you need is food that nourishes but does not heat the body.

Faust Spaghetti fits right into that class. It is a high gluten food—a bone, muscle and flesh former—but contains practically no fat, therefore cannot heat the body.

FAUST SPAGHETTI

makes a savory, appetizing dish. It can be served in a great many ways that appeal to the palate. It is easily prepared—it makes a nutritious, non-heating meal during the summer. Write for free recipe book, "Spaghetti and Its Uses." Faust Spaghetti put up in air-tight, moisture-proof packages.
